

WCVT Employees Fight Hunger in Vermont

A group of WCVT employees volunteered at Boyer's Orchard in Monkton and picked apples to fight hunger in Vermont. During this past harvest season, companies throughout Vermont picked or bought apples at local orchards to donate to the VT Foodbank as part of their Pick for Your Neighbor program. The WCVT crew picked over 1,600 pounds of apples and plums to donate to the cause. The program is a win-win for everyone. Fresh, local fruit is distributed to needy families throughout Vermont, local orchards benefit with increased sales and exposure, and companies experience a day of teamwork and fun. Great job VT Foodbank, Boyer's Orchard, and Team WCVT!
