Cool Shows Premiering This Fall

Young Sheldon (CBS)

Fans of The Big Bang Theory will want to follow this prequel spinoff. Big Little Lies star Iain Armitage plays a young Sheldon as he starts high school at the age of 9. Jim Parsons narrates the comedy.

Airs on Mondays at 8:30 p.m. on CBS (Channel 3)

Law & Order True Crime: The Menendez Murders (NBC)

Law & Order takes on the real-life case of Lyle and Eric Menendez, brothers who were convicted of killing their parents in 1994. Edie Falco will play Leslie Abramson, their defense lawyer who portrays the men as victims.

Airs Tuesdays at 10:00 p.m. on NBC (Channel 5)

Ghosted (Fox)

Adam Scott and Craig Robinson star in this comedy about a bureau investigating paranormal activity. Scott plays a bookstore employee while Robinson plays a security guard, but their experiences with the supernatural get them recruited to be agents who protect the earth.

Airs on Sundays at 8:30 p.m. on Fox (Channel 7)

Ten Days in the Valley (ABC)

Kyra Sedgwick stars as Jane Sadler, a television producer on a controversial legal drama. However, life starts to imitate art when her daughter is kidnapped in the middle of the night. Everyone is a suspect: the heroin addict ex (Kick Gurry), the loving half-sister (Erika Christensen), the unemployed brother-in-law (Josh Randall) and the ambitious writer (Malcolm Jamal-Warner).

Airs on Sundays at 10:00 p.m. on ABC (Channel 4)

Curb Your Enthusiasm Ends Six-Year Hiatus

Larry David will officially end his six-year hiatus when Curb Your Enthusiasm returns to HBO for its ninth season on October 1. Series regulars Jeff Garlin, Susie Essman and J.B. Smoove will rejoin David over the course of the 10-episode season.

It's been quite a while since fans have had a new season of Curb Your Enthusiasm. Season 8 aired in 2011, which makes this the longest gap between seasons of HBO's beloved comedy.

Curb Your Enthusiasm* will premiere on October 1 on HBO (channel 400 and 360 in HD).

MRVTV Welcomes Keith Berkelhamer

Mad River Valley TV recently hired a new Executive Director/Station Manager, Keith Berkelhamer, to help lead it into the future. Changes are coming, as the public access TV organization ramps up efforts to connect with viewers on the digital side. In July, MRVTV launched a YouTube Channel featuring videos of events including the Warren 4th of July Parade and the Friendly Gathering Music Festival at Sugarbush. It is also on Instagram (madrivervalleytv).

MRVTV can now live stream events to its Facebook Page and YouTube Channel. These broadcasts will not be listed on the TV schedules, so please subscribe to the MRVTV YouTube Channel and "Like" its Facebook page to receive instant notifications of these events.

MRVTV's Channels 44 (Community) and 45 (Municipal) are part of Waitsfield Cable's basic tier of service. To learn more, visit www.MRVTV.com or call 583-4488. You can also stop by the studio offices at the north end of the Village Square Shopping Center.

How to Listen to Your Favorite FM Radio Stations

Champlain Valley and Mad River Valley may present challenges for FM radio stations, but you can still enjoy great reception of your favorite local and regional FM radio stations via Waitsfield Cable. How? By hooking up your stereo audio tuner to the coaxial cable used to deliver your cable TV service.

Equipment Needed:

(This is all available at no charge at our Main Business Office in Waitsfield.)

- FM splitter (p/n FMTVD)
- Two 3' RG-6 coaxial cables
- Matching transformer (May not be necessary depending on your stereo audio tuner.)

Wiring Your Stereo Tuner:

1. At the cable set-top box, unplug the coaxial cable from the 'RF in' or 'Cable in' port on the back of your set-top box.
2. Next, connect that coaxial cable onto the 'input' port of the FM splitter. (The input is the single port directly across from the two ports labeled 'FM' and 'TV'.)
3. Using one of the 3' coaxial cables, connect the 'TV' port on the splitter to the 'RF in' or 'Cable in' port on the set-top box.
4. Using the other 3' cable, connect the 'FM' port on the splitter to your FM stereo tuner. (Depending on the type of connector on your radio, you may not need to use the matching transformer, which adapts the coaxial cable (75 Ohms) to a two-contact connector (300 Ohms) with screws or spade lugs.)
5. Tune your favorite radio stations on your stereo tuner just as you normally would. Enjoy!
