The award recognizes companies for deploying advanced technologies and leveraging them to enable innovation in the areas of economic development and commerce, and education.

About Our Cover:

This year's cover image was taken by Jeff Knight, Valley resident and employee of The Valley Reporter. Jeff captured image of the Bragg Farm, now home to Ploughgate Creamery, on a beautiful winters morning. Although photographed a lot, one never tires of images of this iconic farm and Jeff captured it perfectly. Jeff Knight can be reached at jeff@madriver.com.

LOCAL SERVICE RATES

MONTHLY DIAL TONE RATE

SEE PAGE 10 FOR PACKAGES OFFERING UNLIMITED LOCAL SERVICE.

RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS: $22.35* PER LINE MONTHLY

BUSINESS CUSTOMERS: $28.45* PER LINE MONTHLY

 Residential and Business monthly rates now include 30 minutes of Local Measured Service (see below). Monthly rates are exclusive of taxes and other governmentally sanctioned fees.*

WHAT IS LOCAL MEASURED SERVICE?

The first 30-minutes of local telephone calls in Vermont is now included in your residential or business monthly rates ($22.35/$28.45). Local calls exceeding the 30-minute allotment are subject to per minute charges referred to as Local Measured Service (LMS). Local calls are divided into two categories: calls within your home exchange and calls to other local exchanges (see chart below).

LOCAL MEASURED SERVICE CAPS

LMS rates are incurred until you reach your monthly cap – the maximum monthly charge for local calls. The maximum allowable monthly charge per residential line is $15.40 for local calls to the 496 / 583 exchanges and $15.00 to all other exchanges. The maximum allowable monthly charge per business line is $20.00 for local calls to the 496 / 583 exchanges and $42.00 to all other exchanges.

RATE PERIODS for Local Measured Service:

TIME PERIOD	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT	SUN
8:00 AM - 7:59 PM	PEAK PERIOD
8:00 PM - 7:59 AM	OFF PEAK PERIOD

USAGE RATES PER MINUTE for Local Measured Service:

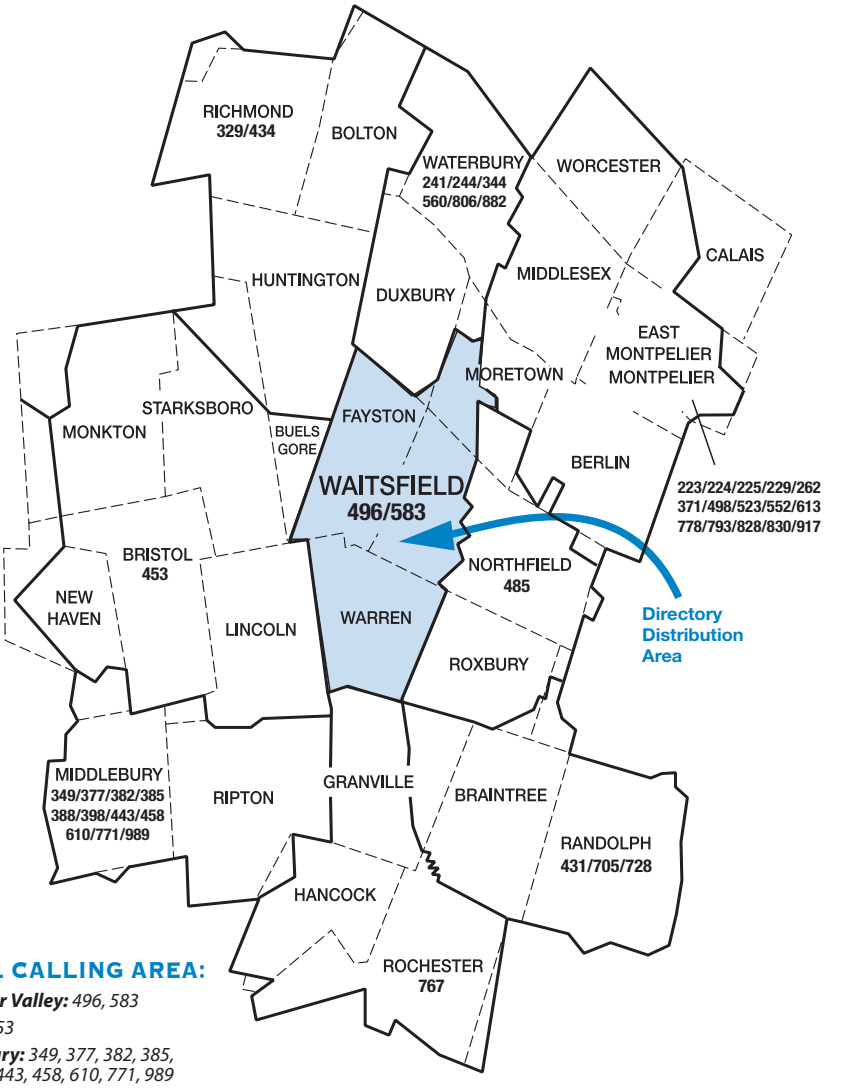

CALLING AREA	PEAK	OFF PEAK
HOME (496/583 exchange)	$0.010	$0.005
ALL OTHER EXCHANGES (see page 7)	$0.022	$0.010

Local Measured Service Charges Do Not Apply to Calls to Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom

CALLING FEATURES & SERVICES

ANONYMOUS CALL REJECTION

Allows you to block incoming calls from a person who will not allow their telephone number to be displayed on a Caller ID device.

TO ACTIVATE:

1) Press *77.
2) The caller will hear an announcement indicating the call can not be completed.

TO DEACTIVATE:

1) Press *87.

■ Service rate is $2.25 per month.

Note: Caller ID is necessary to use Anonymous Call Rejection

ANONYMOUS CALL SCREENING

Allows you to screen all calls from a person who is blocking their name/number from appearing on your Caller ID box. Callers will receive an automated message advising "the number you have reached does not want to accept calls from telemarketers. If you are a telemarketer, please add this number to your do not call list and hang up now. All other callers may press "1" if they wish to complete the call." All other callers whose Caller ID information is transmitted, will not receive the automated greeting above and the call will be completed.

TO ACTIVATE/DEACTIVATE:

- Dial *98 from the line that the service is programmed on.
- A message tells you whether Anonymous Call Screening feature is currently turned on or off.
- Follow prompts to activate/deactivate feature.

■ Service rate is $2.25 per month.

Note: Caller ID is necessary to work with Anonymous Call Screening.

ASSISTANCE SERVICE— HOT LINE / WARM LINE

Both hot line and warm line Assistance Service provide direct, automatic routing of outgoing calls to a single pre-selected telephone number.

A hot line telephone cannot be dialed. When the receiver is lifted, the line is programmed to immediately call a preprogrammed phone number.

A warm line uses a standard telephone. The line is programmed to automatically route a call to your predetermined telephone number after the receiver is off the hook for 10 seconds (shorter or longer pauses are available). If a number is dialed during the timing period, the programmed number is cancelled and the dialed number processed. For the elderly or disabled, the line can be routed to the telephone operator for call assistance.

Regular incoming calls can be received on both hot line and warm line telephones.

■ Service rate is $.89 residential/$1.89 business per month

CALL BLOCKING

You can block access to any 800, 855, 866, 877, 888, 900 or 976 number.

■ This service is available at no charge.

TO ADD A THIRD PARTY:

1) Press the switchhook to place your first call on hold.
2) Listen for dial tone.
3) Call the person you want to add to the conversation.
4) When the second call answers, you may talk privately before completing the three way connection.
5) Press the switchhook to connect all three parties.
6) If you do not wish to add the second call, allow them to hang up.
7) Press the switchhook to return to the first call.
8) If the second call does not answer or the line is busy, you may return to the first call by pressing the switchhook twice.

TO CANCEL:

1) Either caller may leave the conversation by hanging up. You will continue to be connected with the remaining call.
2) When you hang up, the entire three way conversation is cancelled.

■ Service rate is $1.50 per month.

TOLL CONTROL WITH PIN

Allows subscriber to dial an authorized code and override toll restriction on a per call basis. Subscribers can manage settings and change PIN via the web interface at www.voicemail.wcvt.com.

HOW IT WORKS:

- After dialing a number that requires an authorized code, the subscriber hears either a continuous or a stutter dial tone, and must enter the code before the call can be set up.
- If a code is not entered, if a non-validated code is too short, or if a validated code is incorrect, an announcement is played informing the subscriber that he or she has not entered a valid code.

■ Service rate is $4.00 per month.

CALLING FEATURES & SERVICES

LONG DISTANCE DIALING

DIRECT DIALING

Dial 1 + the area code + the seven digit number when using your chosen Long Distance Carrier. To use another Long Distance Carrier, dial the special five digit code for the Long Distance Carrier you want to use, + the area code + the seven digit number.

PERSON-TO-PERSON, COLLECT, CALLING CARD AND BILL TO THIRD NUMBER CALLS

Dial "O" (operator) + the area code + the number. The operator will request the details necessary to complete your call.

All calls, EXCEPT 9-1-1, from semi-public / public telephones must be Collect, Calling Card or Bill to Third Number.

DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE

FOR ASSISTANCE IN DIALING:

Numbers in area code 802:
411 or 1-802-555-1212

Numbers in other area codes:
1-Area Code-555-1212

800, 855, 866, 877, or 888 numbers:
1-800-555-1212

All in-state directory assistance calls is billed at a rate of $0.90 per call. The rate for directory assistance operator handled calls is $1.25 per call.

There will be a charge for each out of state and toll free directory assistance call. This charge applies whether or not the Directory Assistance Bureau furnished the requested number (such as in the case of a non-published number).

If you are unable to use a printed telephone directory because of a visual or hearing handicap, you may apply to Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom to obtain a special waiver from these directory assistance charges.

LONG DISTANCE DIALING

PRE-SUBSCRIBED LONG DISTANCE DIALING INSTRUCTIONS

WHAT IS LONG DISTANCE PRE-SUBSCRIPTION?

You can choose one primary long distance company to process your long distance calls. This is called "pre-subscription". When you notify Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom which long distance company you have chosen, we will wire your telephone line in our central office to pre-subscribe your line. When you dial a call from that line, you will dial "1" or "00" plus the area code and seven digit number. Your calls will automatically be routed to the long distance company you have chosen. You may pre-subscribe to one primary long distance company for each main telephone line (not each extension) you have. If you wish, you may select a different company for your in-state toll calls than you select for your interstate toll calls.

To decide which long distance company is right for you, contact the companies directly to get information about their rates, billing, their procedures for establishing an account, and any other information you need to plan your long distance service. A list of carriers is located on page 26.

WHEN YOU ARE AWAY FROM YOUR PRE-SUBSCRIBED TELEPHONE LINE

Dialing instructions are different when you make calls away from your pre-subscribed telephone line. Be sure to follow the instructions provided by your long distance company.

DIALING DIRECT FROM YOUR PRE-SUBSCRIBED LINE USING YOUR PRIMARY LONG DISTANCE COMPANY:

TO PLACE A DIRECT DIALED CALL:

1 + Area Code + seven digit number
(Area codes are listed on pages 30-31)

TO PLACE SPECIAL TYPES OF CALLS:

When making a special type of call
(Credit Card, Collect, etc.):
0 + Area Code + seven digit number

This call will automatically be routed to Verizon Operator Services. To contact your primary long distance company, dial "00" to verify their specific instructions. If you are making an international call, see the instructions on page 29.

DIALING DIRECT FROM YOUR PRE-SUBSCRIBED LINE USING OTHER LONG DISTANCE COMPANIES

You can use other long distance companies, too. When your telephone line is pre-subscribed to the primary long distance company of your choice, you can still use other companies as well.

Instead of dialing "1" (plus the area code and number), you have to dial a special code assigned to that long distance company for their customers' use (then dial the area code and number).

LONG DISTANCE CARRIERS

CHOOSING YOUR IN-STATE & OUT-OF-STATE LONG DISTANCE CARRIER

The following is a list of carriers currently offering long distance service within Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom's serving area. When selecting a long distance carrier it is important to consider several factors: how many long distance calls you make each month, the length of these calls, the time of day you usually make these calls, the geographic location you call, the per minute rate of the provider and any monthly fees, minimums, and other surcharges. Specific rate information can be obtained by contacting the long distance carrier directly at the numbers listed below.

Once you have chosen a carrier, be sure to establish a billing account directly with that company. We also recommend that you contact the carrier you're changing from to avoid any continued monthly charges that they may bill you if you do not contact them. Once you make your selection and initiate a change of carrier, please contact our business office at 800-496-3391 to confirm the long distance carrier is correctly provisioned.

CONSUMER INFORMATION

YOUR RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

Your complete satisfaction is our ultimate goal and we will make every effort to correct any problems you might be having. The following information describes our customers' rights and responsibilities, summarizes additional calling services and provides additional contact information to help you answer any additional questions or concerns you may have. Please don't hesitate to contact our Customer Service Department at 800-496-3391 or visit us online at www.wcvt.com for further information.

YOUR TELEPHONE BILL

Our goal is to provide you with a clear, easy to read billing statement, while ensuring we meet all state and federal guidelines. Each month you will receive a detailed billing statement listing the charges for the services you subscribe to. It is very important to review your bill thoroughly. Your bill includes charges for local service, optional calling features, Internet and Cable TV services.

While WCVT does provide billing for some third-party companies, we do not control the rates for these other companies' services. Should you have an issue with a rate or charge, please contact the company associated with the charges directly. The name and number of the company charging you for such services are listed in the section of your bill where those charges appear.

If you believe that you were improperly charged for services, you can dispute the charges and request that the company remove them from your bill. As your local telecom provider, we remind you that as part of our service commitment, our business office is always available to answer any questions you may have about your bill. If you have any difficulty in contacting the service providers listed on your bill, or if you're not satisfied with the response you get, please contact our Customer Service Department at 800-496-3391 and we will do our best to help you resolve the problem.

Your bill also clearly details when payment needs to be received, various payment options available, and contact information for Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom. Should you have any questions regarding your bill, please contact our Customer Service Department.

Please note: WCVT follows the Consumer Bill of Rights and Vermont PUC Standards for Billing, Credits and Collections, and Customer Information for Telecommunications. All transactions are in U.S. currency only.

UNRESOLVED COMPLAINTS OR PROBLEMS

Our goal is to satisfy our customers, and we welcome opportunities to improve our service. If you have a question, problem or complaint with services provided by Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom, please contact our Customer Service Department (see How To Reach Us – page 2). If you are still unsatisfied, please ask to speak to a manager, or you may contact the

Vermont Department of Public Service at:

METHODS OF APPLYING FOR TELEPHONE ASSISTANCE

Lifeline Program

Residential customers who qualify may be eligible for a monthly fee reduction on their telephone rates through the Lifeline Telephone Service Credit Program. For more information on the Lifeline Program, visit www.lifelinesupport.org or call 1-800-234-9473.

Privacy

Confidentiality issues are of paramount concern to all of us, and protecting your records is a priority. We strive to maintain high standards for the protection of our customer's privacy and follow rules as governed by the State and FCC. WCVT has established standard policies relating to employee access to customer records and we provide training to our employees about their obligations to protect customer information and to treat it confidentially.

Your Telephone Account Information Rights

Unless we have your authorization and approval, Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom does not disclose customer information to non-affiliated third parties. However, we may internally use this information to offer you certain other WCVT services such as Internet access and long distance, but only to the extent permitted by government regulations and customer notice and consent requirements.

CONSUMER PROTECTION TIPS

Be Aware of Slamming and Cramming

Slamming is the unauthorized and illegal switching of a customer's preferred long distance company. Federal and state laws prohibit "slamming."

Many times, "slammers" use contest forms or a check made out in your name to effect a change in your account status. Whether or not you realize it, sometimes your signed sweepstakes entry form or an endorsed check is actually a "letter of authorization" giving approval to switch your long distance provider. You may only discover that you have been "slammed" when you receive your bill.

Customers who believe they've been slammed; i.e., that there has been an unauthorized change in their long distance carrier selection, should inform us immediately. Once we receive notification of an unauthorized long distance carrier change, we will advise you of the following:

- Notify you that there is a 30-day absolution period and that you should not pay those charges on your bill.

- Contact your authorized carrier; i.e., your preferred carrier prior to the alleged slamming, to re-establish a long distance calling plan with them.
- Contact the unauthorized carrier immediately regarding the charges. You are entitled to be switched back to the long distance provider of your choice at no charge and to have any disputed charges billed at your original company's rate.
- If the unauthorized long distance provider refuses to comply with your request, you may write a detailed letter to the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) at the following address for help in resolving the dispute:

Federal Communications Commission
Common Carrier Bureau
Consumer Complaints
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

To protect against slamming, local telephone companies offer a preferred carrier (PIC) freeze, which prevents any change being made to your selection of a "preferred" long distance provider without your expressed consent to lift the freeze. We make PIC freezes available to customers, regardless of the company selected as the preferred long-distance carrier, and comply with various requirements on the materials we send out about PIC freezes. In addition to specific information about any charges, we also include a clear explanation and description of the specific procedures necessary for you to lift the freeze.

You must request separate PIC freezes for:

(1) regional (intra-LATA/intrastate) long-distance service, and

(2) state-to-state (interstate/inter-LATA) and international long-distance service. We must obtain separate authorizations for each service for which you request a freeze.

"Cramming" refers to any charges you find on your bill for services you did not authorize. The charges can be for many things; e.g., voice mail, personal 800 numbers, 900 services, sweepstakes, and other services. We exercise a word of caution when signing up for free items on the Internet as they can also include as authorization for charges that can appear on your telephone bill. Make sure to read all disclaimers ensuring no additional charges or services will be assessed to your telephone bill.

"Cramming" charges generally appear on a separate page of your bill with the billing company's name and contact information. We recommend that you review your bill thoroughly every month to ensure charges being assessed are legitimate. If you suspect a charge has been "crammed" onto your bill, call the company that charged you. Ask for an explanation of the charge and request adjustments or refunds for incorrect or unauthorized items. Since company information can often be hard to get, you can also call us. We have procedures in place to help you respond to incorrect charges listed on your bills.

OBSCENE, THREATENING OR HARASSING CALLS

If you receive an obscene, threatening or harassing call, hang up quietly. Arguing, talking back, raising your voice or slamming down the phone may encourage additional calls. Make sure everyone in your home, especially children, know how to handle these calls.

If calls persist, contact Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom about Call Trace options. Call Trace allows Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom to provide law enforcement officials with call identifying information from harassing or obscene phone calls under certain circumstances after an investigative file has been opened. If you would like to make arrangements for call trace, please contact our Customer Service Department at 1-800-496-3391 for information about the procedures that will need to be followed. A service rate of $4.00 per use ($12.00 maximum per month) is charged only when you activate a trace.

VERMONT TELECOMMUNICATIONS HOW TO REDUCE UNWANTED TELEMARKETING AT HOME

Many people find that telemarketing calls provide them with valuable information about products and services. But if you would rather not receive these calls, a National Do-Not-Call Registry has been established to address consumer concerns about unwelcome telemarketing calls.

The registry applies to all telemarketers (with the exception of certain non-profit and political organizations) and covers both interstate and intrastate telemarketing calls. Commercial telemarketers are not allowed to call you if your number is listed on the registry.

You can register any of your phone numbers for free, and they will remain on the National Do-Not Call Registry indefinitely. You may remove your name from the list at any time. The Do-Not-Call Registry will not prevent all unwanted calls.

THE NATIONAL DO-NOT-CALL REGISTRY DOES NOT PREVENT CALLS:

- from organizations with which you have established a business relationship;
- for which you have given prior written consent;
- that are not commercial or do not include unsolicited advertisements;
- from or on behalf of tax-exempt; or
- non-profit organizations.

TO REGISTER BY TELEPHONE:
Consumers may call 1-888-382-1222.
For TTY users, call 1-866-290-4236.
You must call from the phone number you wish to register.

TO REGISTER BY INTERNET:
Visit the National Do-Not-Call Registry website at www.donotcall.gov

Inclusion of your telephone number on the National Do-Not-Call Registry will be effective 31 days following your registration.

CALL SCREENING:

Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom also offers a Telemarketer Call Screening service. For more information please see page 20.

Important Information Regarding Vermont Relay

Did you know that many Vermonters who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have speech disabilities can now enjoy the convenience of communicating with family, friends or business contacts by telephone? They can, thanks to the Vermont Relay!

Here's how Vermont Relay works:
A person who is deaf, hard of hearing, or may have a speech loss types his/her conversation using a text telephone (TDD/TTY). A specially trained Communications Assistant (CA) relays the message by reading the text message to the hearing person at the other end. The CA then relays the hearing person's spoken words by typing them back to the TDD/TTY user.

Hearing callers who wish to reach people who are deaf, hard of hearing or speech disabled may simply dial 711 or dial 1-800-253-1095. Text telephone users may also dial 711 or dial 1-800-253-0191. There is no charge for dialing 711, and all options available to Vermont Relay users through existing 800 numbers are available to 711 users. If you are experiencing trouble dialing 711 to reach the Vermont Relay, please call the local telephone company or Vermont Relay Customer Service.

Relay services are also available for people with Speech Disabilities. Speech-to-Speech service lets people with speech disabilities communicate on the telephone by using their own voice, or voice-assisted device, through the help of a specially trained CA by dialing either 711 or 1-877-253-0446.

Spanish Relay Service is available to Spanish speaking residents of Vermont. To place a Spanish relay call, dial 877-253-5424 (Spanish-to-Spanish) or 1-877-253-7244 (Spanish-to-English).

CapTel®, short for captioned telephone, is a service that allows users to hear and read what the person they are calling says. CapTel users place calls just as if they were using a standard telephone. CapTel service uses specialized operators and enhanced voice recognition technology that displays verbatim captions of the conversation on the screen of a CapTel phone or a computer screen. For more information, go to www.vermontrelay.com/captel

All services are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and enable people to place relay calls between Vermont and other locations anywhere in the United States and internationally to English and Spanish speaking persons. By law, each conversation is handled with the strictest confidentiality. There is no charge to access Vermont Relay.

To learn more about Vermont Relay, visit the website at www.vermontrelay.com

Special points of interest:

- Equipment Distribution Program If you want to learn about the Vermont Relay Distribution Program, please contact The Vermont Center for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing at www.vcil.org/services/vtedp or call 1-800-639-1522 toll free (ask for EDP). You may also contact the Vermont Department of Public Service at 1-802-828-2811 (Voice) or 1-800-734-8390 (TTY)
- Emergency Calls Please note that 711 is only to be used to reach Vermont Relay. For EMERGENCIES you should continue to use 911 In an emergency, call 911 or your local emergency service TTY number directly, without using relay. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires that 911 centers have TTYs and be prepared to handle emergency calls placed in this manner. Vermont Relay will make every effort to assist you in an emergency. However, it is important to understand that relay centers are not 911 centers and do not assume responsibility for emergency calls.

To place a call, dial 711 or use one of the numbers:

FEDERAL LAW PROHIBITS ANYONE BUT REGISTERED USERS WITH HEARING LOSS FROM USING INTERNET PROTOCOL (IP) CAPTIONED TELEPHONES WITH THE CAPTIONS TURNED ON. IP Captioned Telephone Service may use a live operator. The operator generates captions of what the other party to the call says. These captions are then sent to your phone. There is a cost for each minute of captions generated, paid from a federally administered fund. No cost is passed on to the CapTel user for using the service. Although CapTel can be used for emergency calling, such emergency calling may not function the same as traditional 911/E911 svc. By using CapTel for emergency calling you agree that T-Mobile is not responsible for any damages resulting from errors, defects, malfunctions, interruptions or failures in accessing or attempting to access emergency svc. through CapTel whether caused by the negligence of T-Mobile or otherwise. Restrictions apply. See t-mobile.com/captel.com for details. T-Mobile, the T logo, Magenta and the magenta color are registered trademarks of Deutsche Telekom AG. © 2021 T-Mobile USA, Inc. FINAL DISCONNECTION NOTICE INFORMATION

(800) 496-3391

1. Your service will be disconnected unless you do one of the following before 3:00PM on the Must Be Paid On Or Before date printed on your Final Disconnection Notice:

   A. Pay the Local Service past due amount in full. Payment locations can be found in the Waitsfield and Champlain Valley directories in the Blue Page section; or

   B. Make a reasonable payment plan to pay the Local Service past due amount; or

   C. Deny that your Local Service balance is past due in excess of $50.00; and submit the dispute to the Vermont Public Service Board to their satisfaction to obtain a Board Order prohibiting disconnection; or

   D. Provide a written statement or verbal notice that within seven days, a written physician's notice will be provided by a duly licensed physician. Such a notice shall certify that a ratepayer or resident within the ratepayer's household will suffer an immediate and serious health hazard by the disconnection of their service, or by failure to reconnect service to the household. Use of a physician's certificate by a customer to prevent disconnection or to cause a reconnection is limited to two consecutive 30-day periods and shall not exceed three 30-day periods in any calendar year, except on written order of the Vermont Public Service Board.

2. If you are unable to pay the Local Service past due amount in full, we will negotiate a reasonable arrangement. If you wish to discuss this matter with us, you should immediately contact our Customer Service Department before the disconnect date at 1-(800)-496-3391, Monday through Friday except holidays, between the hours of 8:00AM and 5:00PM.

If you do not believe the terms of your repayment plan are reasonable, you may contact the:

Consumer Affairs Division of the Vermont Department of Public Service at:
- 1-(800)-622-4496, or
- TTY 1-(800)-734-8390 (toll free in Vermont) or
- 1-(802)-828-2811,
- 112 State Street, Third Floor
  Montpelier, Vermont 05620-2601, on any day, Monday through Friday, except holidays between 7:45AM and 4:30PM.

The Consumer Affairs Division can give you advice and assistance negotiating an agreement or give you information on how to submit a dispute to the Public Service Board.

3. If your service is disconnected, you will be charged a reconnection fee of $30.00 per line and also, a security deposit equal to two-twelfths of your estimated annual local bill. The security deposit may be paid in installments.

Continuing Emergency Access (CEA)

If your main telephone number has been disconnected due to a move or non-payment, you will still have the ability to make 911 calls for at least 180 days. After your residential line has been disconnected, Continuing Emergency Access (CEA) is provided to your Network Interface Device so that you can reach 911 in case of an emergency as well as Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom for any questions you may have about your telephone service.

LINE CONSTRUCTION POLICY

*(As set forth in Section 7.0 of Tariff #5, filed with the Vermont Public Service Board)

Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom (WCVT) will provide 500 feet of normal construction at no charge to customers. Beyond 500 feet the customer's cost is $1.75 a foot. NOTE: For existing customers requesting a change to their facilities, there will be construction charges associated with the change.

Waitsfield Cable will provide 1,300 feet of normal cable television (CATV) construction at no charge. Beyond 1,300 feet, the customer cost is $1.25 per foot. NOTE: For existing customers requesting a change to their facilities, there will be construction charges associated with the change.

If an additional customer utilizes any portion beyond 500 feet within three years of its construction, the original customer will receive a prorated refund. WCVT's Engineering Department handles all quotes for specific construction charges and rebates.

It is WCVT's Company Policy to comply with the National Electric and Safety Codes, as well as the specifications of the manufacturer's of cable, equipment and systems within the telecommunications industry.

In general, WCVT's construction is overhead, placed on jointly used power poles. The following specifications must be met if a customer requires buried service:

LINE CONSTRUCTION POLICY

CONDUIT REQUIREMENTS:

1. A minimum 2" schedule-40, PVC electrical conduit must be placed to customer's demarcation point (NID location). The conduit must be swept up at least 2 ft at both ends with electrical sweeps, not plumbing elbows.
2. 3" conduit must be placed on all main line feeds. (Ex: from pole to pedestal or from pole to "H" frame / Pressure Treated 4x4 Post or from pedestal to pedestal). This excludes service drops. Maximum distance between pull points will be 500 feet.
3. Conduit will be 4 feet above final grade at utility pole location (plumb and tight to utility pole).
4. Conduit will be 2 ft above final grade at pedestal, "H" frame / Pressure Treated 4x4 Post and on the outside of house or structure.
5. Conduit at mobile home – Preferred Method: Conduit will be tight to the trailer on the outside of skirting. Optional Method: Conduit run will be a maximum of 2 feet from structure on the outside of skirting to a Pressure Treated 4x4 Post or "H" frame. The Pressure Treated Post or "H" frame will be a minimum of 4 feet above final grade.
6. All conduits must have a pull rope (no mason string – this will not be accepted) installed with both ends of the conduit above final grade and securely capped. Pull rope will be continuous, no knots and no splices.
7. Telephone conduit should be placed on the left side of the power conduit (facing structure) and a minimum of 18" away from the power conduit. (See #11)
8. Do Not Reduce conduit size.

*Note: Please visit our website at www.wcvt.com for our complete Line Construction Policy detailing conduit placement, bonding and grounding information and customer wiring requirements or contact our Engineering Department at 1-800-496-3391.

TROUBLESHOOTING

TIPS FOR TROUBLESHOOTING...

...YOUR TELEPHONE CONNECTION

If you are having problems with your telephone line, please try these easy steps before contacting our Repair Department.

Start by Checking Your Telephones

- Determine if the problem resides on one or all of your telephones.
- If the problem is with only one telephone, test that telephone in another jack. If it still doesn't work that telephone is probably bad.
- If the telephone works in a different jack, go back to the jack where the trouble started and test it again with a different telephone. If neither telephone works, there may be a problem with the wiring to that jack.
- If neither of your telephones work after testing each telephone and jack separately, the problem may be in your wiring.

How to Check Your Wiring

Follow these easy steps to determine if the trouble is your responsibility or ours (see figure 2).

- Locate the Network Interface Device (NID) typically located on the outside of your home or business
- Disconnect the modular plug from the test jack (see figure 1).
- Plug a working telephone into the "test jack" with a modular line cord. If you receive a dial tone, the problem is with your wiring or equipment.
- If you do not receive a dial tone, the problem is most likely with our facilities. Please contact our Repair Dept. at: 1-800-496-3393.

If You Don't Have a NID

If you follow the trouble shooting tips and determine that there may be a problem with your wiring, but cannot locate a Network Interface Device (NID), call our repair department and explain the situation.

...YOUR INTERNET CONNECTION

If you are having problems with your Internet connection, please try the following before contacting technical support:

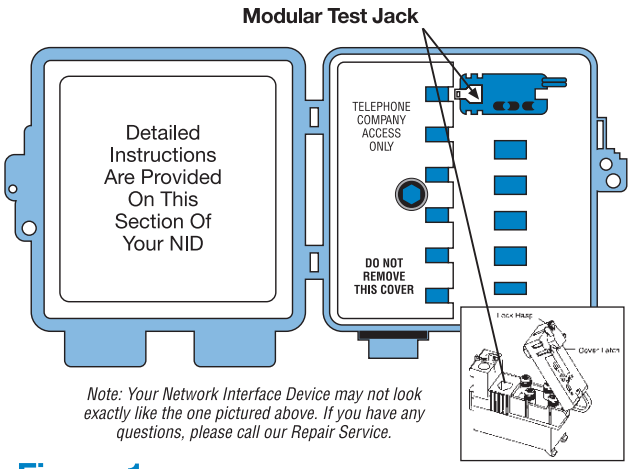

- Try rebooting (powering down & then up) your computer and modem. This easy step solves 50% of the problems that our technical support staff deals with on a daily basis.
- If you are not able to connect to the Internet make sure that all of your cables are connected. If they are, check for a dial tone. If there is no dial tone, you should contact our repair department. If you continue to experience technical difficulties, please have the following information available and contact our Tech Support Dept. at: 1-802-496-8598 or 1-888-321-0815.
- Have as much information as possible. If your computer locks up, know what program is running. If you receive an error message, write it down.
- Before you call, be at your computer and have it turned on. Our technicians may have to ask for specifics regarding your computer configuration in order to fix the problem.

TROUBLESHOOTING

WIRE MAINTENANCE PLAN

For only $3.95 a month, you can subscribe to our Wire Maintenance Plan.

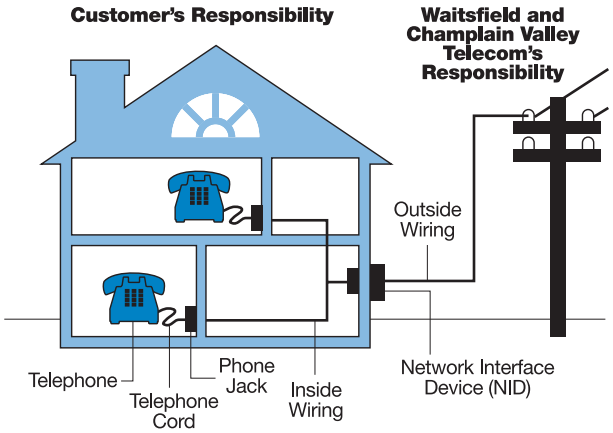

The plan is designed to reduce the cost of possible repair charges and covers the inside wiring at your residence or business. In addition, the plan covers full replacement of battery and/or charger at any time due to a performance failure for Fiber-to-the-Home customers.

Note: Your Network Interface Device may not look exactly like the one pictured above. If you have any questions, please call our Repair Service.

TOWN OF FAYSTON

Mad River Glen's unique and extensive trail system follows the natural contours of the mountain as it descends down General Stark Mountain. The original developers of Mad River Glen worked with nature to create a ski area that is now recognized for the best ski terrain in New England. The mountain's abundant natural snowfall, northern exposure, and bowl shape work together to create a ski area that holds snow like no other.

MOUNTAIN STATS & FACTS

General Stark Mountain Elevation: 3,637 ft
Base Elevation: 1,600 ft
Vertical Drop: 2,037 ft
Trails: 45 marked trails plus boundary-to-boundary off-piste access.
20% Novice - 35% Intermediate - 45% Expert
Skiable Terrain: 115 acres of the least crowded slopes and trails in New England, plus 800 acres of legendary tree skiing.

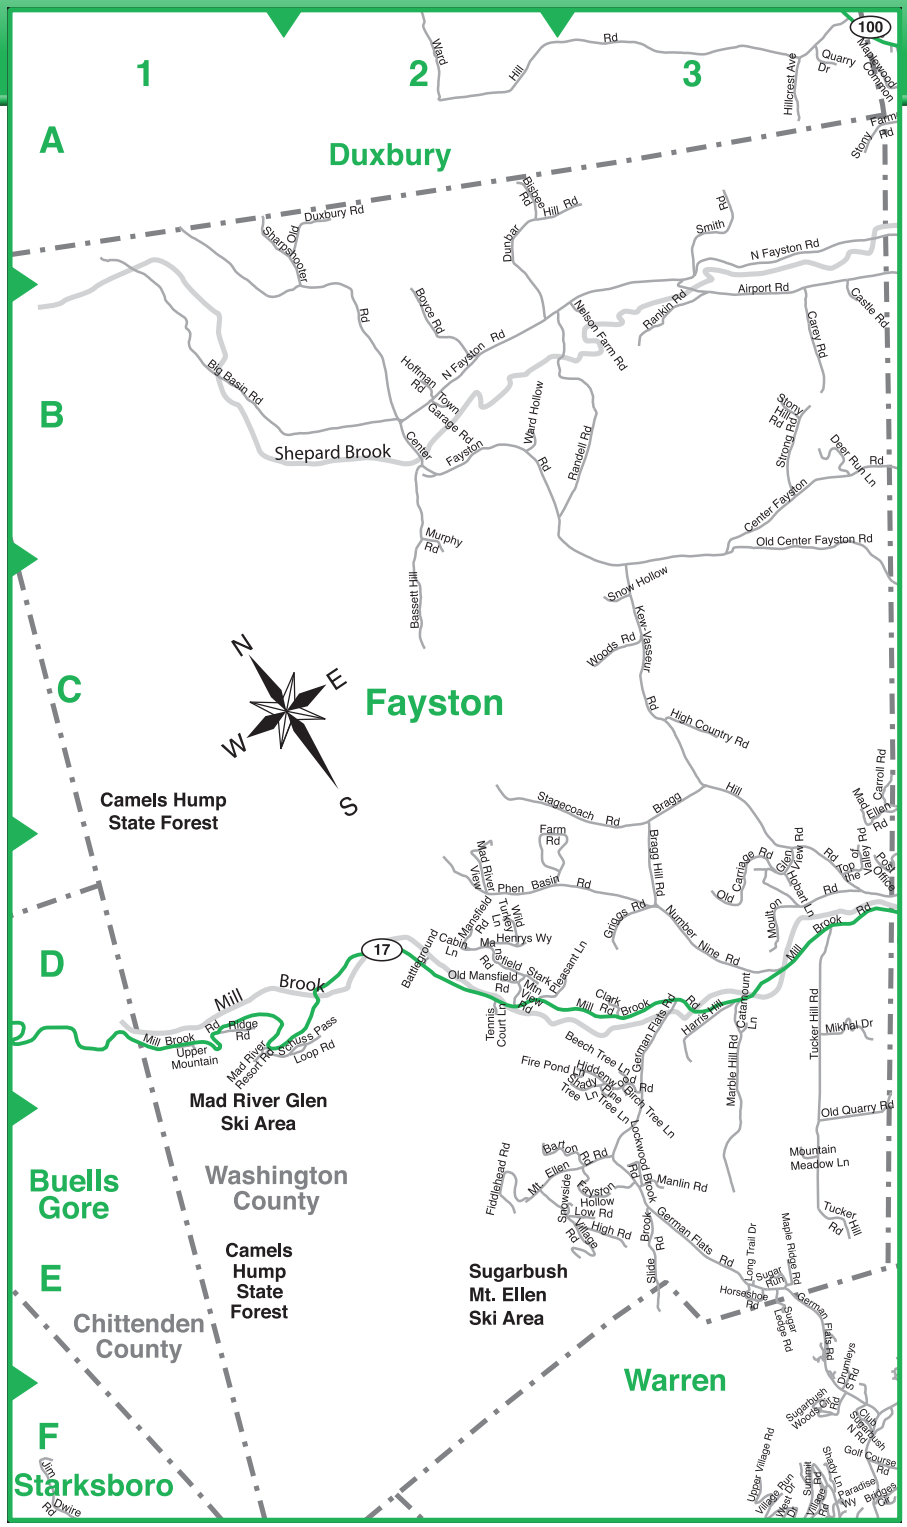

Lifts:1 Single Chairlift – "America's favorite chairlift," the last surviving diesel-powered Single Chairlift in North America.
3 Double Chairlifts
1 Handle Tow
Uphill Capacity: 3,574 skiers per hour
Average Annual Snowfall: 250 inches
Snowmaking: 15% coverage, predominantly on the high traffic, low elevation terrain.

ACTIVITIES & SERVICES

- Ski School for All Ability Levels in both Alpine & Telemarks
- Alpine & Telemark Equipment Rentals
- Cricket Club Daycare for Kids 6 Weeks to 6 Year.
- The Basebox - This rustic lodge is the hub of the Mad River Glen community. Here you will find our award-winning cafeteria offering a smorgasbord of our famous home cooking.
- General Stark's Pub - Offers up Mad River's famous conviviality along with hearty pub fare and a classic setting to discuss your on slope exploits.
- The Birdgcage - On-mountain lodge located at the base of the Birdland Lift. The "Cage" is a great place to meet for a quick warm-up or for hot drinks and snacks.

COME FOR THE MOUNTAINS - STAY FOR THE VALLEY

Where many come for the mountains but stay for the authentic experience Vermont's Mad River Valley offers all year long, a unique combination of community and resort, that has to be visited—or moved to—to really appreciate. Discover the skiing, hiking, food and fun of this part of Vermont!

SPRING

Spring is like a secret treasure around here. The transition between winter and summer is quiet, peaceful, and brings out a different kind of beauty in the Mad River Valley. As the snow melts, and the trees bloom, the weather is unpredictable but the fresh air is not! The Mad River has so many things to do in spring. You may be skiing, biking, swimming, or just exploring. But every day is a good day to be here.

SUMMER

Summer in the Mad River Valley is why we all live here! Our long, warm days, our mountain peaks and our Mad River create a continuous backdrop for all kinds of adventure, relaxation and things to do in Vermont. Our community comes alive with vibrant events that bring people together. However you choose to spend your day here, there will be more to discover tomorrow.

FALL

Yes, the leaves on our trees turn vibrant shades of yellow, orange, and red in the fall! 'Leaf peeping' is a popular Vermont activity this time of year. Here, the fun is in choosing how to take in the view. Whether by car, by road bike, by mountain bike, by foot, by kayak, by horseback, or by chairlift or glider, the Mad River Valley offers a fun perspective on the changing landscape and many fun events and activities.

WINTER

It's true, here you'll find some of the best Alpine, Nordic, and Backcountry skiing in the east! But what's really awesome about the Mad River Valley is that there are also plenty of off-mountain activities and other things to do in our part of Vermont to keep everyone entertained. Whether you want to be out in the snow, or inside with the snow in view, you're sure to enjoy your Vermont winter getaway.

SUGARHOUSES & SNOWMOBILING

WASHINGTON COUNTY SUGARHOUSES

Vermont is the leading producer of maple syrup in the United States with an annual average yield of half a million gallons. While many sugarhouses have gift stores open year-round, the actual tapping of maple trees and boiling of sap is limited to the early spring.

The sugaring season usually begins in southern Vermont in late February and continues through March and well into April in northern Vermont. The sap only flows when weather conditions provide the right combination of freezing nights and warmer days. To make one gallon of syrup sugarmakers must boil down approximately forty gallons of sap. An average tree provides ten gallons of sap, so millions of sugar maple trees are tapped for the annual harvest. These stands of trees are called "sugarbushes" or "maple orchards" and the boiling of sap takes place in a sugarhouse with a characteristic vented roof.

Warm and weather-proof clothing is recommended for touring sugarhouses and the sugarbush. It is also recommended that the visitor call ahead, whether it's just to look around or to arrange a sugar-on-snow party.

SNOWMOBILING IN THE MAD RIVER VALLEY

Snowmobile enthusiasts will find the Mad River Valley an excellent location for trail riding and accomodations. VAST Corridor Trails run throughout the towns of Waitsfield, Moretown, and Fayston. Several different routes out of the Valley include Northfield, Huntington, and Waterbury. From there, a rider can connect with other trail systems all over the state.

Local trail systems offer spectacular views. Weekly grooming of the trails by local club members allow riding well into early spring. Trails in the Mad River Valley are well maintained and can accommodate riding abilities from beginner to expert. Services are available along the trails in several locations offering food, gas, and lodging.

Membership in VAST (Vermont Association of Snow Travelers) as well as any local snowmobile club (Mad River Ridge Runners here in the Valley) is mandatory prior to riding on the VAST trail systems in Vermont. VAST and club memberships are available at Kenyon's Variety in Waitsfield (496-3922).

MOUNTAIN BIKING IN THE MAD RIVER VALLEY

Thanks to: John Atkinson,
Chairman, Sugarbush Stoke Exchange at Sugarbush Resort

Welcome to the heart of the Vermont mountain biking! The Mad River Valley is home to some of the oldest and best trails in the state, with a thriving bike culture that embraces everything from lift-served downhill at Sugarbush to world-class road riding on the App Gap.

The myriad dirt roads in the Valley are important for accessing trails and linking areas, in addition to being beautiful in their own right. Expect steep sustained pitches on most dirt roads.

The Mad River Riders, one of the founding chapters of Vermont Mountain Bike Association, is responsible for many of the Valley's trails. The networks of trails are made possible through combined efforts of the Mad River Riders, the Mad River Path Association, Vermont State Department of Forests, Parks and Recreation, Sugarbush Resort, Green Mountain National Forest, the Towns of Warren, Waitsfield, Fayston and Moretown and many private landowners.

Volunteer help is always welcome.

The Valley's trails are generally characterized by long technical climbs and descents. There are awesome views on some trails, but in the height of summer growth, they can feel like a green tunnel. Not all intersections are marked, be prepared to navigate. Always carry tools, food, water, extra clothing, communication, and leave your route plan with somebody. You don't have to be far away to be far away from help.

Some of the most popular MRV riding is in the Howe Block and Phen Basin sections of Camel's Hump State Forest. Below are trail descriptions and ratings for the trails in these areas. For a map and descriptions of the full Mad River Riders network, please visit madriverriders.com.

Trails are rated:
●=Easy ■ = More Difficult ◆ = Most Difficult

The score of 1-5 (easy to difficult) refers to:
- Aerobic challenge (down/up)
- Technical challenge
- Flow

These are relative scales, based on local conditions. Hazardous terrain and features exist throughout the network. Inspect everything before riding. Choose to walk or avoid things beyond your abilities or comfort level.

Please ... stay on the trails, follow Leave No Trace principles, yield to hikers, horses and anyone below you, respect landowners, stay safe, have fun, learn something, look before you leap, consider conditions, use your head, help with trail work, be friendly, share graciously, say hi, thank much, enjoy often, support our partners, join the Mad River Path and the Mad River Riders, try downhilling, be prepared, smile wide, eat well, linger long, go forth and pedal.

Camel's Hump State Forest—
Howe Block / Tucker Hill Rd.

Access & Parking: Waitsfield Village, Stark Mountain Bikes, Tucker Hill Rd.- CHSF parking lot (easiest), Dana Hill Rd (not recommended for driving)

Enchanted Forest ■
Aerobic: 2/3 • Tech: 3 • Flow: 5

The Enchanted Forest winds gently through mixed woods on the Tucker Hill side, gradually transitioning into a large pine plantation on the Dana Hill side. The trail is generally ridden from Tucker Hill Rd. to Dana Hill Rd. or as a teardrop loop with the Cyclone Connector. At the four-way intersection in the maple sap lines, continue straight. Stay straight at the Cyclone Connector intersection. Look for fun whoop-de-doos and jumps, watch for the normally-dry streambed crossing.

Cyclone Connector ■

Cyclone ◆ ◆
Aerobic: 3/5 • Tech: 5 • Flow: 4

The Cyclone's endless twisty turns are riddled with roots, rock faces, log rolls, short burst climbs, flowy downhill, bridges and berms.

Clinic ◆ ◆
Aerobic: 3/5 • Tech: 4 • Flow: 4

From top to bottom, this Valley classic is a "clinic of bike skills." Be careful to go right on Busternut soon after the double stream crossing to return to Dana Hill Rd. Please stay on state land here, marked with orange blazes.

Camel's Hump State Forest—
Phen Basin—

Access & Parking: There are no official parking areas close to these trails, although you can legally park on the sides of dirt roads, discretely and respectfully.

East Loop ■ ◆
Aerobic: 3/4 • Tech: 3 • Flow: 4

At the top of Stagecoach Rd. enter Phen Basin on a doubletrack trail (Bassett Hill), keeping a close eye for a sharp right on to the East Loop. Half way down, there is a cut-off to the Chain Gang, or you can continue down for more riding.

Chain Gang ◆
Aerobic: 3/5 • Tech: 4 • Flow: 4
From the Bassett Hill trail, look for a signed intersection for VAST RT 17W and the Chain Gang. Follow south to the Chain Gang entrance. Chain Gang is tough fun riding, with lots of rock. Exit on Phen Rd.

Bassett Hill ■ ◆
Aerobic: 3/4 • Tech: 3 • Flow: 3
Bassett Hill is ridden as access to East Loop and Chain Gang or as a connector to Bassett Hill Rd in North Fayston.

The Mad River Riders also recommend visiting Sugarbush and the Mad River Path.

Sugarbush Resort ● ■ ◆ sugarbush.com
Access & Parking: Park at Lincoln Peak base area or ride up from town. Lift-served downhill and free-ride trails, with terrain parks, dirt jumps, and constructed features. Free trail riding. There's also a great easy loop below the mountain on the south side of the Access Rd.

Mad River Path ● ■ ◆ madriverpath.com
There are several sections of the Mad River Path throughout the Valley, most of which are easy and family friendly. Please help us fully connect the Mad River Path!

ROAD BIKING IN THE MAD RIVER VALLEY & BEYOND

Appalachian Gap
From Rt 100 in Waitsfield, take Rt 17 to the top of App Gap. This 6.3 mile climb of 1,600 ft. has a series of steep switchbacks and grades in the last 1.5 miles.

Appalachian Gap—
Middlebury Gap Tour
From Rt 100 in Waitsfield, take Rt 17 over the Appalachian Gap 16 miles to Rt 116. Turn left on Rt 116, four miles through the village of Bristol. One mile past Bristol, turn left and continue south on Rt 116 to East Middlebury for a total of 34 miles traveled. (At this point, you may ride into Middlebury adding six miles to the trip.) Turn left on Rt 125 and make the 10 mile climb up Middlebury Gap (2,149 ft.) and down to Hancock on Rt 100. Turn left on Rt 100, riding through Granville and Warren. The tour covers 70 miles and two demanding mountain passes.

Appalachian Gap — Richmond
From Rt 100 in Waitsfield, take Rt 17 over the Gap. The first section of the descent on the back side is extremely steep, and it is a fast and curvy 2.7 miles down to the right turn for Huntington and Richmond. A more enjoyable and fast six miles into Huntington Center is followed by rolling terrain and a long hill down to Richmond for a total of 24 miles covered. Turn right on Rt 2 to Waterbury, ride through Waterbury, and turn right on Rt 100 back to Waitsfield. Distance covered is 51 miles. For a longer variation, from the Gap ride to Rt 116, turn right and travel through Hinesburg, then onto Rt 2A to Williston, and east on Rt 2 to Water-bury for a total of 72 miles.

German Flats Road Loop
From Rt 100 in Waitsfield, take Rt 17 approximately two miles. Turn left on German Flats Road and after about four miles, left again at Sugarbush Inn. A long hill takes you down to Rt 100 which you take (turning left) back to Waitsfield.

Granville Gulf
From Rt 100 in Warren, ride south to Granville through scenic Granville Gulf for approximately 9 miles. Return the same way. Continuing south on Rt 100 from Granville to Rochester adds another eight miles for a total ride of 34 miles.

Montpelier — Randolph Loop
From Rt 100 in Waitsfield, ride north through Moretown on Rt 100B to Middlesex (13 miles). Turn right on Rt 2 toward Montpelier. From Montpelier, take Rt 12 south through Northfield and Northfield Center (30 miles total) and bear right onto Rt 12A. Ride through Roxbury and West Braintree rejoining Rt 12 in Randolph at 51 miles. Continuing south, just beyond Bethel (59 miles), take Rt 107 west to Rt 100 (69 miles). Turn north on Rt 100; return to Mad River Valley riding through Stockbridge, Rochester, Hancock (82 miles at this point), Granville and on to Warren and Waitsfield. This loop covers 102 miles.

Waitsfield — Warren Loop
From Waitsfield, take Bridge St. east 0.4 miles and continue on East Warren Road to the Four Corners in East Warren. Continue south to Brook Road and turn right traveling to Warren. From Warren, turn right on Rt 100 to Waitsfield. This loop covers 14 miles.

Waitsfield — Warren on Rt 100
From Waitsfield, take Rt 100 to Warren five or six miles. Return by the same route. This is a pleasant ride with no big hills, but you may want to plan your ride for the least busy times of day. Rt 100 has a fairly adequately paved shoulder and the pavement is in good shape. Distance is 10 - 12 miles roundtrip.

Waterbury — Middlesex Loop
From Rt 100 in Waitsfield, ride north to Waterbury (there is a climb followed by a nice descent). Turn right onto Rt 2 south to Middlesex (gentle terrain, little traffic). In Middlesex (16 miles traveled), turn right onto Rt 100B through Moretown back to Rt 100, continuing south to Waitsfield. Distance is 29 miles.

BACK ROAD WALKS

East Warren Road - 6.8 miles

A very popular route to ride, run or walk offering spectacular views of the ski areas. Paved, but traffic. From Waitsfield, take Bridge Street and drive 2.7 miles to the junction of East Warren Road and Waitsfield Common Road. Park here. Walk south on East Warren Road to its end at the four corner intersection. Return by the same route.

North Fayston Loop - 4.2 miles

This upper basin is a remote area offering completely different vistas. From Waitsfield, drive north on Rt 100 approximately three miles. Turn left on North Fayston Road and drive 2.8 miles to an old cemetery. Park here. Continue up the North Fayston Road for about 1.3 miles, bear left at the four corners and proceed another 1.3 miles before turning left again and descending through the woods back to your car.

Plunkton Road Loop - 3.7 miles

Rolling open terrain, offering some of the best views in the valley. Drive up Brook Road from Warren to the Roxbury Mountain Road four corners. Park here. Walk east on Roxbury Mountain Road for 0.6 miles. Turn right at the first road (Senor Road). Continue on Senor Road for 1.4 miles before turning right again. Walk 0.5 miles, turn right at the first intersection and walk along Plunkton Road back to the four corners.

North Road to Moretown - 4 miles

This route parallels the Mad River and is a lovely, peaceful walk. From Waitsfield, drive north on Rt 100 approximately a mile to Tremblay Road. Turn right and continue 0.8 miles and park at the junction. Walk north on North Road to Moretown. Eight mile roundtrip.

Waitsfield Common to East Warren Road - 5.4 miles

Great views can be seen along this route. From Waitsfield, take Bridge Street 0.4 miles and bear left at the fork. Take Cat Joslin Road one mile to Waitsfield Common Cemetery. Park here. Walk south on Common Road (gravel) 2.7 miles to the paved East Warren Road. Return by same route.

West Hill - Inferno Road Loop - 5.8 miles

A hilly scenic country road loop offering both wooded and open sections. Over half paved. From Warren, walk south through the covered bridge, across Rt 100 and two miles up Lincoln Gap Road to West Hill Road. Turn right on West Hill Road and up a long hill, passing Inferno Road on the left. Bear right and continue to follow West Hill Road through the golf course and past Golf Course Road on the left. West Hill will descend to Rt 100. Cross Rt 100 and head back into Warren.

Mad River Paths

The Mad River Path Association presents several year round paths throughout the Mad River Valley. Altogether, these paths provide a variety of experiences and recreational opportunities, such as walking, hiking, running, biking and cross-country skiing.

The mission of the Mad River Path Association is to build, maintain, support and conserve a system of continuous public pathways from Warren to Moretown to foster a healthy community by connecting the people, schools, businesses and special places of the Mad River Valley.

Millbrook Path

Part of the Catamount trail system in Fayston, this trail meanders up and down the hill between Millbrook Lodge, past Tucker Hill Lodge and onto German Flats Road, crosses in to Hiddenwood (where there is an entrance to the next trail) and ends at Mad River Barn, the northern most terminus of the trail. The path is in a woodland of tall spruces, hemlock, birches and maples. It crosses a small stream several times with rustic wooden bridges.

Village Path

This is a relatively flat path. Beginning at the Laundromat in Fiddlers' Green, it travels past Irasville Common to the Irasville Cemetery to Rt 100. The path continues across Rt 100, travels north around Slow Road, circles the Skatium and ends at the Mad RIver ValleyChamber of Commerce. Follow the signs.

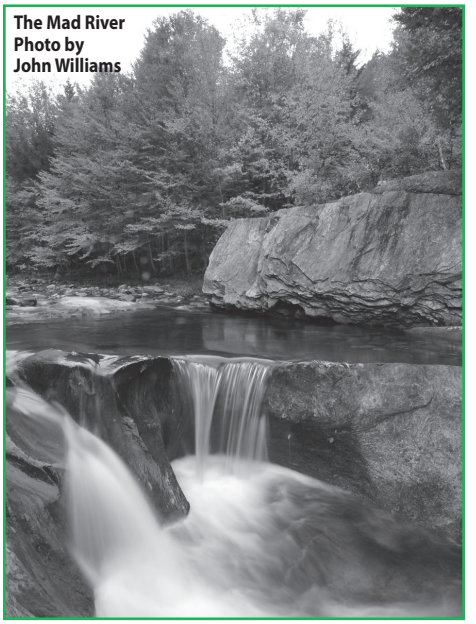

Warren Path

From Warren, take Brook Road to the Warren Elementary School and Brooks Field. This is a beautiful woodland path and is a wonderful spot for a tranquil walk among the trees.

Hiking information included in this section is from the Green Mountain Club's guidebooks, the Long Trail Guide and Day Hiker's Guide to Vermont. Together, these books provide information on nearly all hiking trails in the state. They are available for sale from the GMC or area bookstores.

The Green Mountain Club maintains, manages, and protects Vermont's historic 445-mile Long Trail System and advocates for hiking opportunities in Vermont. For hiking information, or to become a member, contact the GMC at 4711 Waterbury-Stowe Road, Waterbury Center, Vermont 05677; (802) 244-7037; gmc@greenmountainclub.org; or on the web at www.greenmountainclub.org. The Green Mountain Club's Marvin B. Gameroff Hiker Center and Bookstore is located on Route 100 in Waterbury Center, five miles north from I-89.

APPALACHIAN GAP TO LINCOLN GAP

Take the Long Trail South from Appalachian Gap or the Long Trail North from Lincoln Gap. From the north, Mt. Ellen (4,083 ft.) is reached after 5.3 miles and Lincoln Peak after 8.2 miles. An arduous, but very rewarding hike offering beautiful views from the high, rugged, and at times, very narrow ridge of the Green Mountains. Take precautions with regard to the weather and make sure you are up to it physically. It is a high and exposed ridge with escape routes down the ski runs. Distance from gap to gap is 11.6 miles taking five to eight hours.

GENERAL STARK MOUNTAIN

From Rt 100, take Rt 17 to the Appalachian Gap. Take the Long Trail South for 3.1 miles to the summit, passing the top of the Mad River Glen Ski area. There are three overnight shelters near the summit (Theron Dean, Stark's Nest, and Glen Ellen Lodge). Distance is 6.2 miles taking four to five hours. Elevation gain is 1,297 ft.

MT. ABRAHAM

From Rt 100 in Warren, take Lincoln Gap Road. Park at the top of Lincoln Gap and follow Long Trail North for 2.6 miles passing the Battell Shelter after 1.8 miles. The rocky summit is above timberline and offers panoramic views. This is a well traveled trail and a good hike for kids. Descend by the same route. (Lincoln Peak is .8 miles farther north on Long Trail and the descent is by the ski trails Sugarbush South Basin.) Distance is 5.2 miles taking three to four hours. Elevation gain is 1,596 ft.

MT. ELLEN - SUGARBUSH LOOP

From Sugarbush North parking lot, follow the service road (left side of ski area) to the top of Mt. Ellen (4,083 ft.). Follow Long Trail South 1.6 miles to the Castlerock chair lift at South Basin. Walk down the ski runs to the South Basin parking area. Distance is 5.5 miles taking four to six hours. Elevation gain is 2,500 ft.

SUNSET ROCK

From Rt 100 in Warren, take Lincoln Gap Road. Park at the top of Lincoln Gap and follow Long Trail South. Trail climbs steeply at first, then gently up and down before opening abruptly onto Sunset Rock (1.1 mi.). Distance is 2.2 miles taking two hours. Elevation gain is 500 ft.

HIKING (CENTRAL & NORTHERN VERMONT)

Abbey Pond (Ripton)

Reach the trail by turning east off RT 116, 4.3 miles north of RT 125 (Abbey Pond Road). The dirt road forks immediately; take the right fork. Proceed 0.4 mi. to an intersection. The trail goes straight ahead from here. Park well off the roads as they are used by gravel trucks.

From the dirt road (0.0 mi.), the trail follows an old woods road and crosses the outlet of Abbey Pond just below a series of cascades (0.2 mi.). Soon swinging to the right and climbing steadily, the trail recrosses the brook (0.6 mi.) and bears to the left at a fork (0.9 mi.) before continuing on easy grades to a third and final brook crossing (1.2 mi.). After bearing away from the brook (1.4 mi.), the trail ascends gradually through occasional wet areas to reach the pond near its outlet (1.9 mi.). Round trip 3.9 miles. Ascent 1,160 ft.

Bolton Valley

From I-89 South take Exit 10 (Waterbury /Stowe). Take Rt 2 West to Bolton, a 7-mile drive. Take a right on to Bolton Valley Access Road. From I-89 North take Exit 11 (Richmond). Take Rt 2 East to Bolton, a 6-mile drive. Take a left on to Bolton Valley Access Road. Trails accommodate all ability levels. Access to Long Trail and Catamount Trail. Beautiful views of natural surroundings and wildlife. Elevation gain is 3,130 ft.

Camel's Hump via Forestry Trail (Duxbury)

This trail begins at the west end of the Couching Lion Farm site parking lot. To reach the trailhead, follow the River Road 5.1 miles west of RT 100 in Waterbury. Turn left onto Camel's Hump Road and continue south 3.7 mi., bearing left at a major fork about half way, to the parking at the end of the road. The final 1/4 mile of this road is not maintained in winter, but the state maintains a winter recreation parking area to the east of a spur road opposite the last house on the road. Be warned that this is a very popular parking lot (40,000 visitors yearly), and space is at a premium on weekends.

From the parking lot (0.0 mi.), the Monroe Trail immediately enters the woods, turns sharp left, and continues a short distance before beginning a moderate ascent. The Dean Trail comes in from the left (1.3 mi.) and, continuing to climb, the Monroe Trail crosses Hump Brook (2.1 mi.), where a spur trail leads left 50 ft. to a good lookout.

Recrossing the brook, turning north and ascending more steeply, the trail crosses the Alpine Trail (2.5 mi.) and continues on to the Long Trail (3.1 mi.) at the Camel's Hump Hut Clearing. Camel's Hump summit is 0.3 mi. south on the Long Trail. Couching Lion parking lot to LT, 3.1 mi. Parking lot to Camel's Hump, 3.4 mi. Round trip, approx. 5 hours.

Elmore Mountain Trail (Elmore)

The trail to the summit begins in Elmore State Park (campground, picnic area, swimming). The park entrance is located on the west side of RT 12, a short distance north of the village of Lake Elmore. Pay a small day use fee and make parking arrangements at the park contact station.

Continuing straight ahead from the contact station, the road passes the camping area and begins to ascend (0.0 mi.). The road reaches a chained gate near a picnic shelter (0.5 mi.). From this point on, the trail is blue blazed.

The trail continues on the road through the gate and ascends to the south. Near the end of the road, the trail turns sharply to the right (1.0 mi.) at a blue arrow and sign on a tree and follows a well worn path through open woods. After some steady climbing in places, the trail reaches a grassy clearing a short distance below the ridge (1.9 mi.). The cellar hole on the left marks where the old lookout's cabin once stood. There is a good view to the east overlooking Lake Elmore.

To the right, on the west side of the clearing, the trail begins a steep and winding climb over rocks. Soon it reaches a level area and trail junction. To the right is the Balanced Rock Trail. To the left the Elmore Mountain trail continues about 100 ft. to the old fire tower on the summit (2.1 mi.). Round trip 4.2 miles. Ascent 1,450 ft.

HIKING (CENTRAL & NORTHERN VERMONT)

Groton State Forest

With an area of some 26,000 acres, Groton State Forest is the largest single tract of land owned by the State of Vermont. It is located between RT 2 and 302 along the Groton-Marshfield state highway. An extensive trail system provides access to many of the scenic points of interest in the forest, including several ponds, bogs, and exposed granite peaks, among them Owl's Head (1,958 ft.) and Deer Mountain (1,800 ft.). Maps are available during the summer season at the campgrounds located on Ricker Pond and Groton Pond, and during other seasons at the park headquarters located at the Marshfield end of the forest.

Lake Willoughby Area (Wheeler Mountain)

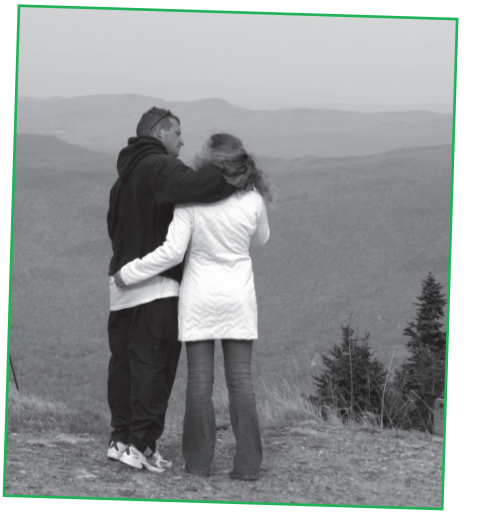

Follow RT 5 east for 2.1 miles and turn north on a narrow dirt road. Continue on this road for 2 miles to a white farmhouse on the right. Follow the white-blazed trail through the field, into the woods, and then climb over open rock to the 2,371 foot summit. En route, outstanding views are afforded to Mt. Mansfield and the northern Green Mountains to the west, and Willoughby to the east. From the summit, descend through woods 0.1 miles to Eagle Cliff, and a remarkable view of the lake and Bald Mountain. Round trip 2.5 hours.

Mount Mansfield

The highest mountain in Vermont, Mt. Mansfield (el. 4,395) is known for its distinctive ridgeline, especially when viewed from the east, which resembles a profile of a human face. The names of its more prominent south-to-north features reflect this: Forehead, Nose, Upper and Lower Lips, Chin and Adam's Apple. The Abenaki called the mountain "Moze-o-de-be-Wadso" (Mountain with the Head of a Moose). It received its present name from the town of Mansfield, disestablished and divided among adjacent towns over 100 years ago.

Mount Mansfield via Haselton Trail (Stowe)

This trail, named after Judge Seneca Haselton of Burlington, the first vice-president of the GMC and a great lover of Mt. Mansfield, is one of the mountain's oldest trails. Beginning at the far end of the Mt. Mansfield Gondola Base Lodge parking lot, the entrance of which is 0.6 mi. south of the Long rail on RT 108 (gate may be locked at night) (0.0 mi.). It follows a ski service road a short distance and then bears left into the woods (0.1 mi.) climbing steadily. After following a hogback separating two brooks (0.6 mi.) the trail crosses the south brook (0.7 mi.) and ascends steeply to join the Nose Dive Ski Trail (1.3 mi.) which it follows to the Toll Road (1.6 mi.) near the Octagon. From here, via the Toll Road, it is 0.5 mi. to the Summit Station and the Long Trail. Parking to Long Trail on left, 2.1 mi., 2 1/4 hours. (Rev. 1 1/4 hour).

Spruce Mountain (Plainfield)

From RT 302, 1.1 mi. east of East Barre, turn north on the Plainfield Springs Road (0.0 mi.). After reaching the end of pavement (4.9 mi.), continue to a junction on the right with East Hill Road (5.7 mi.). Follow East Hill Road uphill, and then turn right onto Spruce Mountain Road (6.5 mi.). At the next junction (6.8 mi.), turn left and follow the narrow and winding road to a parking area and gate at the start of the trail (7.5 mi.).

From the gate (0.0 mi.), the trail turns right and follows a wide woods road to the southeast. After an initial brief climb, the trail descends gradually for some distance, offering occasional views of the tower, and then climbs on easy grades.

Gradually swinging to the east, the trail reaches the end of the well defined road (1.0 mi.). The trail then continues through several wet areas, where former fire tower lookouts have placed stepping stones and fill. After passing two small springs and obscure snowmobile trail junction on the right, the trail continues a short distance further to cross a small stream (1.3 mi.).

Following a northeasterly course in the deep woods, the trail soon begins a moderately steep climb (1.5 mi.) past two large boulders (1.6 mi.) and then climbs somewhat less steeply over the granite bedrock for some distance. Resuming a steady ascent (1.9 mi.), the trail continues through a fern clearing and then continues on easier grades to the summit and tower (2.2 mi.). Round trip 4.4 miles. Ascent 1,180 ft.

Snake Mountain (Addison-Weybridge)

From RT 17, 0.8 miles east of Addison Four Corners and RT 22A, follow Mountain Road south to the start of the trail at Willmarth Road (2.7 mi.). Limited parking is available at the old barn at the junction of Willmarth and Mountain Roads.

From the road junction (0.0 mi.), the trail follows the gated woods road east to a junction on the right with the old summit carriage road (0.5 mi.). Bearing left and continuing more steeply to the north, the trail swings to the east onto the ridge and reaches the old trail junction and registration box (0.9 mi.). From the junction the trail takes the right hand fork and continues up the old blue blazed carriage road to the summit and an old concrete foundation (1.8 mi.). Round trip 3.6 miles. Ascent 900 ft.

Stowe Pinnacle

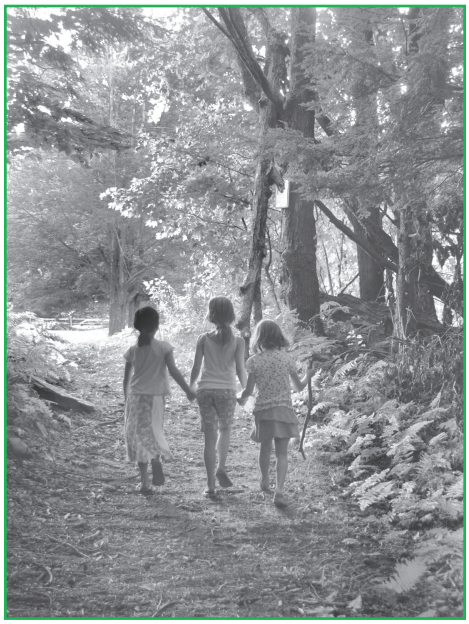

From RT 100, about 1.5 miles south of Stowe Village, turn east on Gold Brook Road opposite the Nichols Farm Lodge (0.0 mi.). Bear left at the first fork, and continue through the intersection and covered bridge. Turn right at the next junction (1.8 mi.), and continue to a parking lot on the left (2.3 mi.). Follow the trail through an abandoned pasture and begin a steady climb by a series of switchbacks to a notch (0.9 mi.). After a short, steep climb continue on easy grades to the open summit (1.4 mi.), where good views of the Green Mountains and Stowe Valley may be seen. While you are in the area, visit the Green Mountain Club Headquarters on RT 100 in Waterbury Center. Round trip, 2 hours.

Waterbury Trail (Waterbury)

From Waterbury Center village (0.0 mi.), east of RT 100, follow Maple Street north. Take the first right onto Loomis Hill Road (0.2 mi.) and follow it to a fork (2.7 mi.). Take the left fork, Water Works Road, and continue to a parking lot on the right near an abandoned stone quarry (3.7 mi.).

From the parking area (0.0 mi.), the trail begins a moderate climb through a mixed hardwood forest. After crossing a stream (0.9 mi.), the trail leads up over several long sections of ledge and crosses an old, red-blazed state land boundary. The trail swings to the right, climbs steeply, and crosses a second stream (1.2 mi.). Bearing left, the trail levels out before reaching a third stream crossing (1.5 mi.). Beyond the stream, the White Rock Trail branches to the right (1.7 mi.). From the junction, the Waterbury Trail ascends straight ahead steeply on rocks in the open to a junction with the Middlesex and Worcester Trails on the south summit (1.9 mi.). Round trip 3.8 miles. Ascent 2,290 ft.

HIKING AND SAFETY TIPS:

1. The ideal hiking season in the Green Mountains is summer and early fall.
2. The average monthly temperature in June, July, and August is in the 60s, in September the high 50s, in October the 40s and early November mid 30s.
3. Insects can be a problem throughout the late spring and summer. "Black fly" season usually lasts from mid-May until mid-June.
4. Vermont's weather is extremely unpredictable, with the possibility of high elevation snowstorms even in summer.
5. If there is any threat of stormy weather, hike at a lower elevation.
6. Wear layers of clothing.
7. Bring a compass and maps, first-aid kit, a supply of high energy foods, like nuts and dried fruits, waterproof clothing, a sleeping bag (even for a day hike), water bottle, flashlight, pocketknife and matches.
8. Wear boots with good support and traction. Wear two layers of socks, first layer synthetic, second layer wool.
9. Remove all valuables from your car at the trailhead.
10. Treat, boil, or filter all water before you drink from a stream.
11. Leave your pet at home.
12. Haul all trash out with you when you leave.
13. Camping and fires are restricted on most Vermont lands.
14. Leave your itinerary with a friend.

A VALLEY SAMPLER
PEOPLE, PLACES AND FOLKLORE

(Note to readers: This year's history section is a reprint of the version that originally appeared in the 1996 Mad River Valley Community Directory. We hope you enjoy this look into the past.)

INTRODUCTION:

Within this beautiful and historic Valley is a trove of scenic splendor, unique people and fascinating legends and tales. If you are fortunate enough to live here you might recall pleasurable memories as you read through these pages, and you might be in for surprising and enchanting discoveries right in your own back yard. If you are a visitor here in the Valley, be our guest as we share fact and lore about a few of the incomparable places and people that have shaped these four towns - Fayston, Moretown, Waitsfield and Warren - as we know them today.

Some of these distinctive attractions were first made known to us by our families and friends. Some of these people will share their recollections and stories. Where possible we've researched historic backgrounds, and we welcome any additional information that would enhance our accounts.

These special Valley places are in our richly endowed outdoors, changing in character with the changing seasons - sweeping vistas, quiet country roads, fields and woods, green with spring and summer, white-blanketed in snow or brilliant with fall color. When you visit them as a next door neighbor or an out-of-town guest, we ask that you are mindful of your role as special caller, one who leaves behind no visible trace of the pleasurable moments spent there. In turn, we hope that you take away happy memories, perhaps of an invigorating adventure, an exhilarating view, or peaceful moments of quiet reflection.

MOUNT ALICE & SCRAG MOUNTAIN

Sometimes called Old Scrag or Old Scragg

From Vermont Place Names: "Origin of Mount Alice has proved to be elusive." Scragg (or Scrag). "Origin of name is not certain; if it's not a family name then it could have been descriptive of an area ragged, rough and uneven."

Maps today show Scrag Mt. as Waitsfield's highest peak at 2,923 feet, with Mt. Alice nearby at 2,628. But there's a romantic story here, and like so many romantic stories, this one has a bittersweet quality to it.

The following piece is based on an interview with Mary Moriarty, who grew up in Waitsfield but now lives in Waterbury. Childhood polio left Mary unable to walk without a leg brace and crutches; she has never been to the top of Mt. Alice, but she knows a great deal about its history.

In the early 1930s, the Vermont Forestry Department, later renamed Department of Forests and Parks, was developing a system of fire prevention lookout towers. Commissioner Perry Merrill approached Walter Moriarty, Mary's father, who was in the lumber business and owned quite a lot of land, including the summit then known as Old Scrag. (The map included in Matt Jones' 1909 History of Waitsfield shows Old Scrag.) The Forestry Department had targeted this prominent summit as a likely location for a new fire tower. Walter Moriarty said that he would give permission for a right of-way and location for the tower and ranger's cabin with a condition: that the summit would be called Mt. Alice, after his wife. Walter knew of a place somewhere in the Granville Woods area that a man had named for his wife. "That appealed to my father and he wanted the mountain named for my mother," Mary said. "He used to say, after we're all gone that will be there to remember you by."

This was agreed upon, that the place where the fire tower was located would be called Mt. Alice. But somehow this agreement was not legally recorded. "It should have been put into writing, but it was not specified," Mary said.

Mary Alice Bisbee, Alice Moriarty's granddaughter, added, "One person told me the interpretation that they call it the Mt. Alice Tower on Scrag Mt. and that was a way of making it alright. But I don't think it's alright according to family tradition; [the mountain] should be called Mt. Alice." Townspeople in the early days generally referred to the fire tower as being on Mt. Alice - and some people today still do.

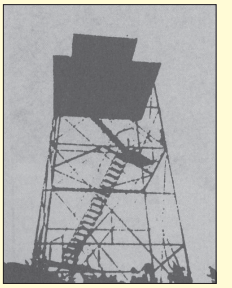

"I worked in the telephone office from the fall before Eleanor [Farr Haskin] was born until 1942," Mary said. "It was during that time that the fire lookout tower was maintained. The tower was always in the telephone directory as Mt. Alice."

One day Mary noticed a sign near Fletcher Joslin's house pointing the way to the lookout tower on Scrag Mt. She was taken by surprise, but quickly collected her thoughts and wrote a letter to Perry Merrill, to ask if it wasn't legally supposed to be maintained as Mt. Alice and why the name had been changed. But this was just about the time of Perry's retirement in 1966. She received a letter back from someone else in the forestry service saying that they would do their best to keep the name Mt. Alice, but the letter gave no explanation about why the name had reverted to Scrag. And there was no follow-up.

Walter Moriarty did indeed leave a lasting monument to his beloved wife; today there is a Mt. Alice, but it is in the shadow of the mountain he had intended to carry his wife's name "after we're all gone."

THE FIRE TOWER

A Look Back at this Waitsfield Landmark

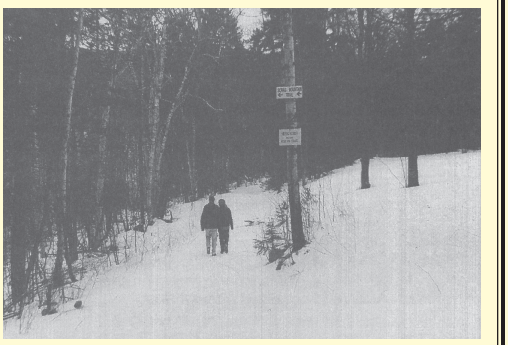

Research into Forest Service records shows that in 1934 a wooden tower and cabin were built on Mt. Alice. The tower was destroyed by lightning in 1947 and a new steel tower with a wooden cab was built. The biennial reports refer to mainte nance of the tower and cabin on Mt. Alice until 1949-50, when the location was referred to as Scrag Mt. Subsequent reports refer to Scrag Mt. and to routine maintenance. The lookout tower system was gradually phased out during the 50s.

For many years this was a favorite climb with Valley residents and visitors, first hiked by some as relatively young children. The trail to the summit of Waitsfield's highest peak - which stands at 2,923 foot elevation - had easy walking sections through dense patches of ferns, over stream beds (wet or dry depending on the season), through handsome white birches, as well as some challenging places over ledges and rock obstructions.

In addition to the Jonathan Palmer family, other early settlers in the general Palmer Hill area include the family names of Grandy, Bartlett, Hamilton and Wheeler. Up here, too, "Squire" Mattias Stone Jones settled in 1798, before forsaking these mountainous wilds for more fertile fields. It's hard now to believe that this remote area was once one of the most densely settled parts of Waitsfield. Herbert Spaulding, who lives on the Waitsfield Common, tells us, "My grandfather's father lived up on Palmer Hill on a big farm up there; I don't know just where it was." His great-grandfather, Andrew Long, was born in Ireland in 1826 and died in Waitsfield in 1897.

Many townspeople remember the rigged steel fire tower that stood at the summit for 30 years. In the early 1930s the Civilian Conservation Corps built a wooden tower and cabin for the watchman. In the late 40s the wooden tower was struck by lightning and destroyed; a new steel tower was built, the one best remembered by townspeople who climbed it to enjoy the spectacular views it afforded.

Caitlin and Kristen Gallagher begin a winter hike to the old fire tower site.
The signs read SCRAG MOUNTAIN TRAIL and HIKERS PLEASE STAY ON TRAIL.

In the 1960s Gordon Moulton was one of the 15 or 20 Boy Scouts who enjoyed the treks and overnight camping on Scrag Mt., under the leadership of Norman Neill. Gordon remembers listening to the forest ranger who would take them up the tower and tell them fascinating stories. "We'd pitch our tents on the ledges just below the fire tower," he said. "I remember one day when we walked south on the ridge line and were standing there when a glider soared over our heads. We could hear the whistling sound as it approached." He added, "My camera was back in my tent."

Now the scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 100, Gordon said that until recent years he would take Boy Scouts up Scrag. "In 1972," he said," the Boy Scouts bought the cabin for one dollar from the state forestry department." Since a new landowner took over a large area, including the summit of Scrag, the cabin was sold to the property owner and is no longer available to the Scouts. Gordon added that it's been two years since he's been up Scrag.

Ramona Shaw, who lives in Waitsfield village, remembers when her father Carlos Shaw climbed Scrag Mountain every day, when he was employed as a ranger by the state of Vermont to scan from the lookout tower and report any forest fires that he spotted. The Shaw family lived in the Marble Bingham house in the village, which has since been torn down. Ramona, her sister Jean and Eleanor Farr (now Eleanor Haskin) would sometimes accompany Carlos on his trips up Scrag. Ramona remembers picking blueberries in season; she remembers the spring at the bottom of the trail and another at the top, which was almost always full enough to fill their canteens. Ramona remembers when the original wooden fire tower was struck by lightning. This happened in the mid-40s. "It was toward dark. There was a loud crack of thunder and then we could see the fire," she said. Fortunately the fire was contained and the nearby woods didn't catch the blaze. The men who went up to fight the fire used back pumps, fire rakes and other equipment supplied by the CCC. At that time the Shaw family lived up on the hill, and on a clear day they could see the fire tower from their house.

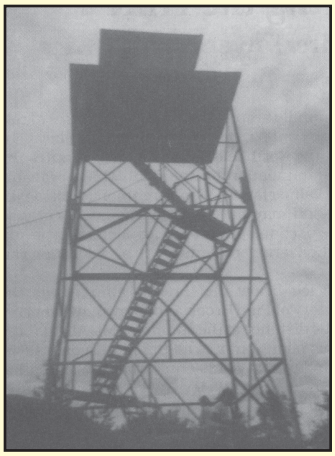

During the years that her father worked at the Fire Tower, Ramona recalls, there was a one stringer phone line tacked to trees along the way, which connected to a phone at the summit. Some times a fallen tree would land on the line, which would then need repair.

Peggy Bisbee Thompson, who now lives on the Old County Road in Waitsfield, grew up on the farm on the Cross Road now owned by the Jennings family. She has fond memories of the hike to the top of what she remembers as Mt. Alice. She remembers one day when they made two trips to the top. In those days, she said, after going through the gate, you went through an expanse of pasture. Peggy adds, "I haven't been up there in forty years."

After Carlos Shaw retired from the job, it was held by a series of rangers who lived in the cabin during the fire danger periods. Martin van Trapp, who has made many trips up Scrag Mt., remembers one ranger who lived there. "He used his time up there to work on a book he was writing. He would hike down to get supplies," Martin said. He added that there is another trail that leads to the summit, beginning at the Great Lakes Carbon Co. farm, formerly belonging to Ike Folsom. Remnants of an old wind tower remain in this locale, Martin said.

The Harold Stafford family lived in the large house at the junction of Palmer Hill Road and the Common Road. Alberta Stafford, who now lives in a new house a short distance away, wrote from her winter home in Florida: "Folks eager to hike were not only locals, but summer folks who often inquired the way." She added. "Often supplies and messages would be left at our house for the ranger." Her son Morris, a frequent hiker to the tower, has two particular memories: the interior of the ranger's cabin, with its bunk beds and stove, and the phone line that ran from the Rivers farm.

The fire tower in July, 1966.

"I remember the eerie, muffled drumming of the ruffed grouse in the nearby brushy woods, a sound that begins slowly and gains speed until it is a hollow whir."

Earline Marsh

In the late 70s the tower was dismantled and for the sum of one dollar, Dave Sellers of Warren bought it from the state forestry service. He arranged to take it down the mountain by helicopter to his home at Prickly Mountain. "During the trip a few I-beams fell into the woods and we never found them," Dave says. "Somewhere up there is a bit of industrial archeology." Dave has plans to re-erect the tower. "It's a long-term, unaccomplished plan with no deadline," he adds. Dave remembers the climb up the tower before its demise. "It was a very strong tower with an awesome view," he recalls.

William "Bill" Osgood, a renowned outdoorsman who lives in Northfield, described the access to Scrag Mt. from the Northfield side. (The town line between Northfield and Waitsfield goes almost across the top of Scrag Mt.) Follow Stony Brook Road to the end, where there is parking for three or four cars. The relatively new trail is marked with paint or tape, since the old trail was closed off by landowners. The trail follows a stream, the headwaters of Stony Brook, and can be slippery in wet conditions. Nearing the top, the trail becomes quite steep. "It's a great hike," Bill said. "There are nice views at the top, particularly if you walk south on the ridge line to get views towards Waitsfield." Having last made the hike up Scrag in October, 1995, Bill reported that the hut is still there and is in relatively good basic condition.

Kristen Gallagher, who made a winter climb with her family, said that the trail was in good condition, though in places steep and icy, with deep snow at the top. She reported that the old Boy Scout cabin showed signs of vandalism inside. Walking south from the old fire tower base, staying on the ridge line for a few hundred feet, Kristen used binoculars to enjoy the sweeping view of the Valley below. "I could see the Round Barn and roads, farms and fields to the south. The sun shining on the view gave an amazing effect," she said.

REMEMBERING THE HIKE TO THE OLD FIRE TOWER ON MT. ALICE

by Rick Thompson

A woods road bears uphill through an avenue of mature maple trees whose crowns form a canopy, creating an inviting gateway for Old Scrag, Mt. Alice and the Northfield Ridge. Within minutes the trail passes an old stone foundation on the right which probably belonged to the Jonathan Palmer family, who were among Waitsfield's early settlers. This location may have been occupied as early as 1800. The mass of stone used to support a central chimney is still visible within the foundation, and remnants of the barn location can be seen across the lane .

The trail then bears left below the "Priest Camp", fords the shallow head water tributary of Pine Brook and immediately begins its ascent up the ridge. The distance to the summit of Mt. Alice is only about 1.75 miles from this point, but it is all uphill with only slight level breaks in the climb. Logging roads enter from the left as the mature maples and beech woods of this lower elevation were cut in the 1980s. In autumn wild turkeys are sometimes seen at this level feeding on fallen beech nuts .

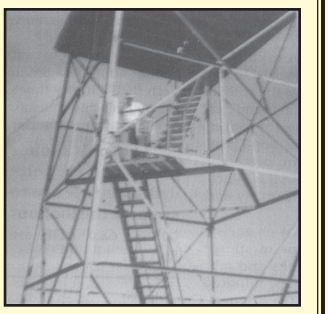

A small spring fed stream soon crosses the trail. In earlier years a battered tin cup and an old iron pipe gave hikers their last drink of cool water here. Springs exist near the summit, slightly down from the junction of the Northfield trail.

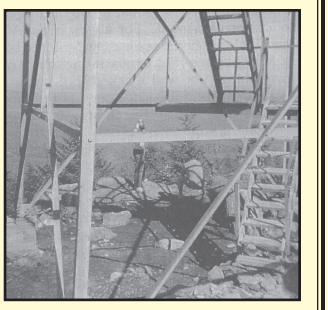

Author Rick Thompson with his daughter Charlotte, summer 1995. Rick is married to Pam Barnard. Charlotte's grandparents are Peggy and Ford 'Tex" Thompson and Jan Barnard and the late Don Barnard.

About a mile into the hike the trail begins its steepest ascent through a forest of white birch. Cooler micro-climates and thinner soils start to play a role here in the vegetation, as the majestic hardwoods of the lower elevation decrease and small clumps of spruce and hemlock become noticeable. This section of the trail has been heavily eroded by seasonal streams. Often hikers will find wind-falls of birch blocking the trail. Ledge outcrops become more and more numerous.

Slight reward for the steep climb is a short flat expanse covered with black spruce that is typical of most Vermont summits. Small swampy areas lie here near the trail, as do fern beds. In dry times suitable tent sites have been found here between ledge and wet soil. Bearing left, the trail leads to the ranger's cabin in less than a quarter of a mile. When Boy Scout Troop 100 of Waitsfield owned the cabin, overnight hikers were welcome to use it for shelter, in exchange for their courtesy and care.

These photos were taken in June. 1970, when Rick Thompson's family hiked to the fire tower.

Over grey ledge, (schist or gneiss) and through thick clumps of spruce used as cover by chipmunks and rabbits, the trail continues a few hundred yards beyond the cabin to the summit. The old anchor plates and tie bolts drilled into ledge to support the lookout tower can still be found. There is a view here looking east into Northfield and the lower hills of eastern Vermont. For a view of the Mad River Valley, continue south along the ridge for a few hundred more yards until reaching a short cliff face that exposes the southern end of the Valley. This overlook is not well marked, but easy to find if one is willing to scramble along the ledge crest of the mountain. The view is quite dramatic and worth the effort.

On the summit one is most likely to hear a collection of bird song. Chickadees, blue jays and song sparrows are common, as are the caws and clucks of ravens. In the fall hawks are often seen soaring past. Do not fear the mysterious metallic screeches that sound like taut wire piercing fierce wind, nor duck under the long skinny shadows you will feel on the back of your neck while resting on the summit ledge. Look more closely as the next ones passes and wave. The glider pilot will undoubtedly tip his wings back.

Rick Thompson grew up and lives in Waitsfield, where he is a builder, amateur geologist and spare-time writer. He combines his college major, geography, with his other interests as he writes "emotional landscaping about places across America" which he and his wife Pam Barnard have visited during their many cross country trips.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE FIRE TOWER SYSTEM

from the Vermont Forest and Parks Annual Reports

Author's note: Starting to research and write about the fire tower in Waitsfield, I found little information until I contacted the Vermont Forests, Parks & Recreation Department in Waterbury. Poring through volumes of biennial reports resulted in the following general information with some specifics about our fire tower.

Devastating forest fires in Vermont around the turn of the century prompted officials to formulate a plan for early fire detection. Forest Service records show that in 1908 alone 15,894 acres of Vermont timber and other valuable property were lost to the ravages of forest fires. In the ten year period between 1918 and 1928 an average of 3,000 acres were burned annually. The records note that while this was an improvement, the figures were still not satisfactory. The Vermont Forest Service, the U.S. Forest Service and the Vermont Timberland Owners Association worked together to build and operate a system of manned lookout towers equipped with telephones, as a line of defense against the destruction of forest fires, which were caused mostly by carelessness. In 1918 there were 8 lookout towers on prominent mountain peaks in Vermont. This figure rose to 15 in 1928 and 20 in 1930.

When the CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) came into being in 1933 as a means of providing employment and training during the Great Depression, one of the early projects in Vermont was the building of six new fire lookout towers, one of which was in Waitsfield. The Forest Service record for 1934 notes that a wooden tower and cabin were built on Mt. Alice. The 1943 report says that a new cabin for the lookout watchman was built and the tower was painted. No reference could be found to explain what happened to the cabin built 9 years earlier.

Looking optimistically ahead in a section titled Post War Planning, the 1944 report notes that there is no need for an increase in fire control organization, based on a favorable fire record that has been maintained in Vermont over a number of years. "Intensive educational fire prevention programs should be conducted, aimed at stressing the responsibility of the individual," the report concludes. The 1946 report reads: "The value of aeroplanes for observing fires and getting information for dispatching was demonstrated on several fires and there are indications that they can be used to a much greater extent for this purpose." On October 20, 1947 the Civil Air Patrol started a regular system of aerial fire patrols, foretelling the ultimate end of the lookout towers for fire detection.

Although credited to "Allis" rather than "Alice", a reference in the 1947-48 report reads: "The old wooden tower was struck by lightning and destroyed by the resulting fire. A new tower has been completed with a base of a steel tower and a wooden cab on top. It makes a very satisfactory lookout station. Considerable brushing and repair work has been done on the telephone line. The lookout cabin has been painted inside and out." There's hardly a shadow of a doubt that this refers to "our" fire tower.

The 1949-50 report has no reference to Mt. Alice but rather the first reference to Scrag Mt. "Lightning protection installed on camp. Painted interior of cabin. Tower cab and windows painted and old wooden tower removed." The next report notes 300 yards of telephone line were relocated. Subsequent reports refer only to Scrag Mt. and to routine maintenance.

As the lookout tower system was gradually phased out during the 50s, a now familiar figure, actually born in 1945, was introduced into Vermont. The 1957 report reads: "A 'Smoky Bear' costume was procured and has been used to bring the fire prevention message to a large number of people through appearances at the Lumberjack Roundup, fairs, Boy Scout Jamborees, parades and schools. Additional publicity was obtained through radio and TV programs, educational movies shown at meetings, posting of signs and the distribution of nearly 30,000 pieces of literature."

The 1962 report states: "The past fifty or more years have shown conclusively the value of prevention efforts."

Today, as in years past, the town forest fire warden plays an important role in fire prevention. Many towns in Vermont include in their Town Report a reminder of the law pertaining to open burning, the number of permits issued, the number of acres burned and the cost to the town and state. For example, Moretown fire warden Duane L. Howes reports that last year 21 acres were burned at a cost to the town and state of $1,109.30.

MORETOWN RECREATION FIELDS AND NATURE TRAIL

In 1995, a model community project in Moretown was begun with volunteer help and donated equipment from throughout the Valley. Ready for use by 1997 are a regulation Little League and softball field and a regulation soccer field, located on land behind the school owned jointly by the town and school district. Doug Reed, an architect and chair of the Planning Commission, drew up plans and spearheaded the community effort to turn an inadequate playing field behind the school and unused space behind the town offices into a modern, well designed recreational area. No taxpayer money was used. "'There are no funds for labor and machinery: that has come graciously and wonderfully from the community." Doug said. ''This is not a Moretown project, it's a Valley institution," he added. Residents from throughout the Valley, including Harwood Union High School students, will have access to the facilities.

On a sunny day in July, 1995, volunteer work crews and donated equipment combined to shape the Moretown Recreation project. Doug Reed, right. representing the planning commission, spearheaded the effort. With him are Rick Haynes, center, member of the select board, and visitor Cooper Parkinson.

Michael Strojny, a member of the school board, pauses in his earth moving work on the new recreation fields, July 1995.

Soccer fields for 7th and 8th grade girls to practice and play are in short supply, and the nearby Moretown fields will be available.

Townspeople involved in the project say that they have been using other people's playing fields over the years. The new Moretown fields will become "like the Waitsfield Couples Club Field North End."

Doug expressed enthusiasm for an outdoor amphitheater, next on the construction list. "The natural location is very rare. There are few places in the middle of a town with such an acoustically ideal natural bowl." Doug, who sings in the Vermont Symphony Chorus, envisions classical concerts here in the future.

Ongoing supervision of the fields is under the jurisdiction of a recreation commission formed by the Moretown select board. This includes representation from the school board and select board, and the Valley community at large.

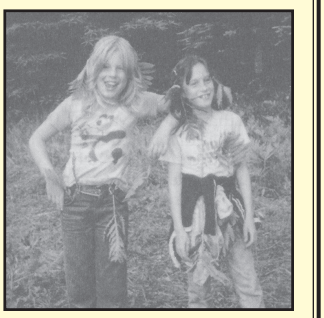

Doug noted long range plans: "Ultimately we'll have a recreation path linked to Harwood. We're working with the Valley Recreation Committee and plan to extend our path up South Hill to loop with the rest of the Valley. People could use the bike path to come to the playing fields without using the highway."

NATURE TRAIL

Earlier this year the Vermont Institute of Science, Math and Technology awarded a $6,000 grant to Moretown School, to resurrect the Nature Trail that extends from the school yard easterly up the hill ultimately to South Hill Road near the historic St. Patrick's Cemetery. Ray Holland, the school librarian, wrote the grant and will be closely involved in its implementation. He says that one of the primary needs is an accurate survey of the school's actual property, estimated to be about 120 acres.

Until the trail is more clearly marked, Ray said, "You could get lost up there." He continued, "In places the old trail followed a stream bed. We'll re-locate the trail to avoid this." The whole area has the potential for being a unique outdoor learning and recreation environment, to be used by the community as well as school children. "There are interesting natural phenomena in those woods," Ray noted.

During the late 70s and early 80s, the school Nature Trail was used extensively for outdoor learning projects, including land use, Abenakis of Vermont, sources of energy, and soils and plants. In 1980 Moretown School was chosen to participate in the APEX Program, a teacher education program at the University of Vermont. An article appealing in 1981 in Phi Delta Kappan, an education journal, explained: "The 120 acres of fields, hills, streams, plants and animals that make up the grounds of the Moretown Elementary School provided an ideal setting for a 10-day experiment in cooperative, cross-disciplinary learning."

Jamie Hearn and Lizzy Strauss enjoy a bit of frivolity along with their serious study of fems, Moretown School Nature Trail, spring 1981.

In recent years the Nature Trail has continued to be used to some degree, but limited resources prevented continued development and upkeep. Present plans, which will be made possible through the grant, include the ELF program (Environmental Learning for the Future), cross country ski program, guided tours offered by students to members of the community to teach about flora and fauna, and student-submitted annual reports to be included in the town report .

BURNT ROCK MOUNTAIN

Long before the days of established hiking trails with accompanying guide books, or private ownership as we know it today, early settlers had blazed their own trails through the wilderness of North Fayston to discover a summit of great scenic beauty. They explored the mossy glades, secluded hollows and rocky outcrops which led to commanding views of rugged mountainsides. From the top of what came to be known as Burnt Rock Mountain, peaks and ranges near and far were visible in most directions, only Camel's Hump and the Allens limiting the view to the north. These adventurous pioneers found a view to the west spanning Lake Champlain, to the east, the Northfield Range and the Granite Mountains, and to the south, Lincoln Ridge.

Eighty years ago, during the summer of 1916, Will Monroe and his fellow trail builders were working on the Burnt Rock Mountain section of the famed Long Trail, which today extends 263 miles from the Massachusetts border to the Canadian border. Monroe, a New Jersey professor, first came to Vermont in the summer of 1914 to teach at the University of Vermont. Described as a genius at trail location, he led the difficult work on this bare rocky summit which rises to an elevation of 3,168 feet. One account of their experience that summer reads: "The plan is to go .... Skyline Trail to just south of Burnt Rock Mountain and from Slash Rock down that ravine or valley to the east-SUPPOSED (!) to bring party out at North Fayston saw mill by 5 p.m. and auto from there to Waterbury to catch the 6:45 train due in Burlington at 7:40 p.m." In those days roads and automobiles did not provide the reliable transportation we take for granted today, and train travel was widely used.

Hattie Boyce Gallagher, who was born in 1894 and died in 1982, is remembered for her great love of the outdoors. She was born in the Boyce homestead in North Fayston and grew up in this remote area. Among other stories, she enjoyed telling about warm summer days on Burnt Rock Mountain picking blueberries and filling a sap bucket. Berries not immediately consumed were destined to be canned for winter enjoyment. James Peck Boyce, who stars in Trudy Folsom's charming story about Burnt Rock Mountain, was Hattie's grandfather.

How did Burnt Rock Mountain get its name? Vermont Place Names simply tells that it was named because there is a hole near the top that looks burned." Material from the Green Mountain Club, which is dedicated to the preservation of the Long Trail, reads. "The mountain's name indicates the reason for its bare summit, for its elevation is well below the scrub line."

HOW BURNT ROCK MOUNTAIN GOT ITS NAME

by Trudy Folsom

Here's a tale handed down for generations in the Boyce family, early Fayston settlers. It offers a plausible though unproven explanation of how this North Fayston landmark got its name.

"Ma, have you seen little Blackface? He's not by the gate." Young James Peck Boyce and his brother Caleb burst into the small frame house where their mother sat busy at her flaxwheel, one foot on the cradle where two month old Mason lay sleeping. The two boys and eight year old Catherine had just returned from the little district school, a half mile up the road where a total of twenty-six pupils were now enrolled. Already the older boys were out helping their fathers with the spring work, mending fences, clearing more land and getting ready to put in the spring crops.

"Little Blackface", one of twin lambs born a month earlier, had been disowned by his mother. "If you can raise him, he's yours." David told his oldest son, who joyfully accepted the task. James spent every spare minute with his lamb, and soon the wobbly little legs grew sturdy and Blackface was following his young master everywhere, except to school. He waited each night at the split rail gate when he heard the children running noisily down the road. But tonight he was neither at the gate nor with the rest of the flock grazing on the fresh spring grass.

'I'm afraid it's a bear, son," said David Boyce, who returned a few minutes later from his task of pulling tree stumps from yet another fertile strip of land further down the Beaver Meadow. "This time of year those old mother bears are pretty hungry after sleeping all winter, and a month old lamb is mighty tempting."

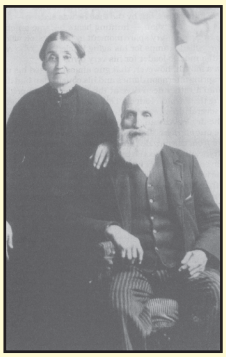

And so it proved to be. Father and son had gone only a quarter of a mile up the mountain, following what were unmistakably bear tracks when they came to a spot by a big rock where a bloodstained lamb skin told the story. The bear herself had long since disappeared, probably back to one of the small caves dotting the Fayston mountainside where she undoubtedly had hungry cubs waiting.

"I'll get her!" Vowed the boy, fighting to keep back his tears - a twelve year old Boyce must not cry. 'I'll get every darn bear on this mountain."

And so was born the legend of James Peck Boyce, mighty bear hunter. At first he could only accompany his father or one of his uncles on hunting trips, but by the time he was sixteen - as strong and muscular as any man - hunting bears became an obsession with him. He spent every spare moment in the Fayston wilderness. One day he pulled stumps for his aging Uncle Paul, who rewarded James with a muzzle loader for his very own.

Within a month, however, that gun almost caused his undoing. One early spring afternoon James and his cousin Dan had driven an old bear into a rather deep cave at the foot of a small peak, one of many along the Fayston Ridge. "Let's smoke him out," said James, and after several attempts with the small flintstone which he always carried, the dry leaves caught and a good smudge was going. The bear came out all right, and was promptly dispatched with a well aimed shot from the muzzle loader. But the boys had not reckoned with the dryness of the woods that spring. Their fire took off through the dry leaves and underbrush until the whole top of the mountain was aflame with a blaze that could be seen for miles. Farmers on all sides left their plows and fence building to fight the fire, which was finally extinguished, but not before it had consumed all growth on the top of the craggy rocks, and even burned so deeply into the thin soil that vegetation never did return. To this day the peak is known as Burnt Rock Mountain. Young James and his precious muzzle loader were grounded for the entire summer, but the next fall he was allowed to return to his bear hunting.

After his marriage to Mary Boyce, a distant cousin, his expeditions became less frequent, but whenever a farmer lost a new-born lamb or unmistakable bear tracks were seen in the neighborhood, James would be off again on his relentless search. He came to know the Fayston hills and each small cave where a bear might "hole up". Legend has it that, knowing a bear to be hiding in the back of one dark cave, he fashioned a torch from a dead branch and twice entered the cave, only to have the light dashed from his hand by the swish of a mighty paw. The third time he crept to the cave opening and without benefit of a light fired at a dark bulk in the deep recesses of the rocks. Luckily for him the faithful muzzle loader hit a vital spot.

By now he had become well known as the mightiest bear hunter of Fayston. Fewer lambs and young calves disappeared in the early spring, and mothers felt safer to let their children venture into the woods. Can we doubt that during his term in Montpelier as representative from Fayston that when he met his fellow lawmakers in the corridors of the State House, more conversation turned to his prowess as a bear hunter than to the enactment of new laws?

When he was ninety years old, two years before his death, James Peck Boyce shot his last bear. Little Blackface was avenged.

THE NATURAL BRIDGE IN WARREN

When she first came to Warren Village as a 20 year old bride, Gerry Cota didn't know anything about a Natural Bridge near her new home on the banks of the Mad River. Soon her husband Kenneth arranged with his brother Jesse to build a new house next door, and Gerry discovered that in their new backyard was an amazing natural phenomenon created by the elements. "The Natural Bridge is better known outside of the Valley than in it," she said with a smile.

How do people know about the Natural Bridge? They read about it in travel literature and when they get to Warren they go to the Post Office and ask where it is. It's four houses south of the Post Office," Gerry said.

Gerry Cota stands on the Natural Bridge on her property in Warren Village. The Natural Bridge is better known outside of the Valley than in it," she said.

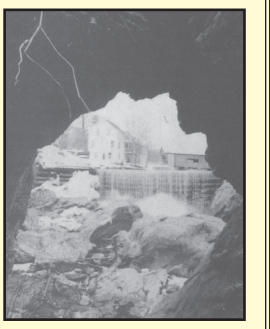

Today, Gerry looks back on almost 50 years of living in her home - and she tells about people from all over the world who have come here to see the natural bridge. "They have come from places like Japan, England, Australia, Korea," she said. Gerry keeps a diary that records the number of visitors and where they are from, but not their names. "One year we had 225 visitors," she said. "We've even had bus loads of people on foliage tours." She explained that they would go down the steep path in small groups to see the bridge, until everyone had a chance to see and photograph it. During the time that her husband Kenneth was ill, before his death a few years ago, Gerry said that the visitors provided a kind of entertainment for them.

Gerry emphasizes that people go down the steep incline behind her house to view the bridge at their own risk. It's treacherous. She added that she doesn't allow children to go down: she takes care of them while their parents make the descent to view the bridge.

It is a spectacular phenomenon; the north side frames the falls, full and noisy in spring, the covered bridge and the large white house in which Gerry first lived. This picturesque view has been captured by photographers and artists who have come over the years, many from far distant places. One of her favorite photos is a large one Gerry has framed and hung on her living room wall: it's a striking winter scene by local photographer Dennis Curran.

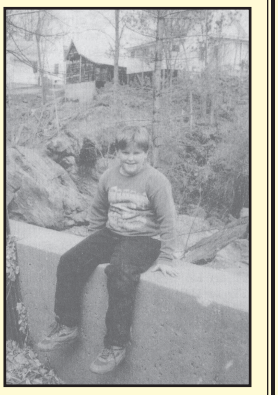

In 1882, the patient compiler of Vermont history Abby Maria Hemenway wrote that the Natural Bridge in Warren is "a very interesting natural curiosity." Located in the south part of the village on the premises of Donald C. Geer. She described it as being about 20 feet in height with an arch of about 12 feet. "Artists have taken views of it that have been sold through the country," she wrote.

Gerry filled in a bit more history: the Geer house was built in 1862 with a carriage house, casket and furniture shop. The property later belonged to Henry Brooks. In 1936 a devastating fire leveled the houses here. When the present Cota house was built the land was vacant.

The classic look of the Natural Bridge, as it has appeared in countless photos and paintings.

Post cards of this view are available at the Warren Store. The house in the back ground is the one in which Gerry lived when she first came to Warren as a bride.

On a sunny early spring day James Litchfield, a student at Warren Elementary School, stopped his bicycle riding through the Village long enough to talk about the Natural Bridge. "It was formed by the water a long time ago," he explained. "In summer the water is lower and I go down there to fish for trout." Here he poses on the other side of the Mad River, the Natural Bridge scarcely visible over his right shoulder.

Last year Gerry was pleased to see a former Warren resident who returned for a visit: Lyman Brigham used to own the nearby mill years ago. Most of the people who come knocking on Gerry's door are strangers who get not only a genuine smile and a friendly greeting but also a glimpse of the most remarkable back yard ever.

A BACKWARD GLIMPSE

As early as 1790 - our towns were chartered before this but first settled about this time - there were few roads at best, and those were "rough and rugged." Early Moretown farmers hauling corn to the grist mill preferred the relatively easy water route to Burlington, even though this meant carrying corn and skiff around Bolton Falls. Not until the road to Montpelier became more user friendly did they venture to the grist mill there. By the mid-1800s Moretown solved the transportation problem with its own grist mill.

In 1807, when the population in the Valley was growing, the Mad River Turnpike was surveyed, beginning in Moretown at the mouth of the Mad River, running on higher ground east of the present route 100 until it would connect with the present North Road in Waitsfield. Thence the Turnpike was designated to continue into Warren, ultimately ending at the bridge over the White River in Hancock. So, as you drive on this magical journey, at times you'll be close to the location of the Mad River Turnpike, surveyed but never built.

When King George's cartographers back in England laid out the towns in what was to become Vermont, they drew straight lines on a map, which did not take into account the mountains, rivers and valleys of this terrain. Consequently, Moretown, for example, has not developed a single central community, but rather has a relatively small village and five other neighborhoods within the town limits. Fayston has never developed a town center. As we travel through Moretown, Waitsfield and Warren, we'll remind ourselves that the early settlers of these towns all chose higher ground for their first settlements, before venturing closer to the Mad River to establish the town centers that have emerged as we know them today.

If we stood in front of the Moretown Store and let our imaginations take us drifting back 150 years we'd envision ourselves outside the G. Fisher Village Hotel, looking across the dirt Main Street at the newly finished Town Hall. We'd wander the Village and see a myriad of businesses: harness shop, tin shop, dressmaker,. wheelwright, livery stable, hardware store, lumber mill - and a distillery for making whiskey. The distillery owner, a Mr. Stevens, was mourned upon his death in 1884, as "a great loss to the town." Moretown also had two doctors, a lawyer, and an undertaker.

Roads were "rough and rugged."

Moretown once had a military band, which boasted 25 dedicated musicians. In the early 1900s, there was a bandstand where the Girard DiCarlo house now stands. Frank L. Goodspeed, founder of a world famous bookstore in Boston, was born here in Moretown.

If we stopped at the Waitsfield Common Cemetery, drifted back 200 years in time and indulged in a bit of guided imagery, we'd envision the Common in those early days. "The Common was acquired by gift and purchase, and on September 6, 1796, the town raised money to 'chop over the public yard.'" This is from Matt Bushnell Jones' classic History of Waitsfield: 1782 to 1908. As the work of clearing this patch of forest began, a section on the westerly side of the Common was designated as a burial ground. In front of the cemetery, flanked by horse sheds stood the old meeting house built in 1807. Nearby was the parsonage; at the north end stood the store of Roderick Richardson, built about 1806. His brother. Dr. Frederick Richardson, owned a house at the westerly corner of the Common, and next to the doctor's house stood the house and blacksmith shop of Philip Gustin, built about 1804. Gustin did a small mercantile business as well: records show that when he found himself in financial straits the constable attached not only the house and shop with its equipment but also 30 gallons of new rum, 20 pounds of tobacco and one chest containing 8 pounds of tea. For more than forty years the political and religious life of the town centered here on the Common.

Listen to Matt Jones· words written almost 90 years ago. The picture they paint could be typical of the sister town centers in the Valley during the early years of the 19th century. "Does not your imagination picture it to you as we sit here in the shade? In yonder store Federalists and Jeffersonian Democrats wage wordy warfare over the Constitution or our growing difficulties with England. On Sunday gather, on foot or horseback, from the four corners of the town a congregation that fills the meeting house to its doors to listen to the strong Calvinistic doctrine of a century ago. After the morning sermon the people seek each other out and break their week of isolated toil with neighborly communion, or wander to the church yard to while away the time until their stern old Puritan pastor shall for the second time that day convict them of their sins." It's well worth finding page 56 and reading on.

Fayston, long known as bear country, was part of Chittenden County until 1811, when it came into the fold of Jefferson County. If you had Vermont history in fourth grade you probably remember that Jefferson County was changed to Washington County in 1814 and has continued with that name ever since.

The first settlement in Fayston was recorded in 1808, near the beaver meadow in the Shepard's Brook area. Brothers William and Paul Boyce, Quakers from Richmond, New Hampshire, settled here before marrying and raising their families. Paul married Rhoda Palmer of Waitsfield in 1812. Their son Ziba Wentworth Boyce made a name for himself in local circles as "the wisdom of North Fayston." Although he had only a "common school education" he was widely read and self taught. Ziba Boyce died in 1877 at the age of 63.

A tale about William Boyce shows that early inhabitants of Fayston were not unlike their counterparts in other towns when it came to superstition and tall tales. Hamilton Child's words, written in 1889, tell the story with a particular flourish. "Sometime in 1814 there was a rumor that the Spanish legions had buried a great treasure at the forks of Shepard's Brook, and William Boyce, having a desire to suddenly secure an abundance of the 'root of all evil' called to his aid Arad Sherman, who was possessed of such magical powers that a forked thong of witch-hazel in his hands would perform as many antics as Aaron's rod. Arad was accordingly conducted to the location when lo! the magical rod pointed out the exact spot of the buried treasure. Arad directed that they must dig for it only in the night and that not a word must be spoken during that time, otherwise the treasure would be spirited away... The story continues that William chose a night tor the secret enterprise and with high hopes dug with great zeal until -- "Eureka! William's bar struck against the iron chest." Predictably William "in the exuberance of his soul, shouted, "I found it!"" With an ominous rattle the strong box and William's crowbar sank slowly and completely out of sight.

Another tale recorded by Hamilton Child took place in the Mill Brook area, set in 1803 (with brothers, John and Rufus Barrett - affectionately known as Uncle John and Uncle Rufus - as the star performers. As was the custom in those days, the men in this little neighborhood went together to work on a barn-raising in another part of town, all but Uncle John who stayed behind as 'home guard for the women and children. Near sunset a cry between a howl and whoop burst upon his ears." Uncle John exclaimed, "Tis the Indian war whoop and no doubt we are surrounded and all the men away." Performing his manly duty, he collected all the little colony together and barricaded the door, loaded all the guns, and awaited the onset, determined to protect his charges. "Night came on apace, but not the Indians." Another worry emerged: the unarmed men would be returning from the raising. One of the women whispered. "I hear voices: tis the Indians sure... When lo! Uncle Rufus tried the door and cried out, "What are you all about here; why won't you let us in?" Instead of being scalped by Indians the women fell into the strong arms of their husbands. Upon hearing the story the men enjoyed a hearty laugh. "It was the wolves," said Esquire Wait. "We heard them howling on the way out when we came along."

Moretown artist Valerie Dudash created this pen and ink drawing as a logo for the 1993 Moretown Community Festival.

After the first settlers arrived in 1797, the town of Warren settled rapidly. Hamilton Child wrote: "Her history after organization [in 1798] is like her sister towns. The pioneers set about leveling the forest, erecting farm buildings, school houses, mills, stores, and improving roads. They were young, brawny, resolute men [and women] who were not afraid of the hardships of backwards life, and they had the strength as well as the courage to endure it."

One of Warren's early settlers was Aaron Rising, who in his old age, having become an influential and prosperous man in town, told of an adventure when he was 6 years old. His family had nothing to eat but pumpkin and potatoes with milk for two weeks. They made some salts and sent him the thirty miles to Randolph for grain, with 25¢ in his pocket for dinner. Young Aaron set out to Waitsfield, then over the mountain to Roxbury on a road through the woods that was nothing more than a bridle path, with tree roots so thick the horse had to step pretty long sometimes. Finding nothing but potatoes and milk for dinner in Roxbury, he moved on to Braintree, where the fare was not better. Arriving in Randolph, Aaron went straight to the mill, where the miller weighed his salts and let him have 3 bushels of grain, with the balance due in money. The miller could not let him have any more, saying that he must divide the grain fairly so people wouldn't starve.

While the grist was being ground. Aaron turned out his horse to feed. There was plenty of food here, but Aaron was so bashful he did not dare to ask for anything to eat. He was getting very hungry at this point. Starting out on the homeward journey, he planned to stop for the night in Roxbury, hoping for a meal or potatoes and milk. But when he got to Roxbury the inhabitants had gone to bed. Feeling lonesome as well as hungry. Aaron went a little farther, hoping to stop at Mr. Sampson's, who lived up close under the mountain. The Sampson house was dark, and the tired and hungry lad kept going. Halfway up the mountain he heard a wolf howl behind him, with an answering wolf up ahead. Now overpowering fright added to his woes. He urged the old mare along, and when at long last they got out of the woods it was so light the wolves left them. Arriving home about sunrise. Aaron dragged the meal into the house, so exhausted he could hardly climb the stairs to his bed.

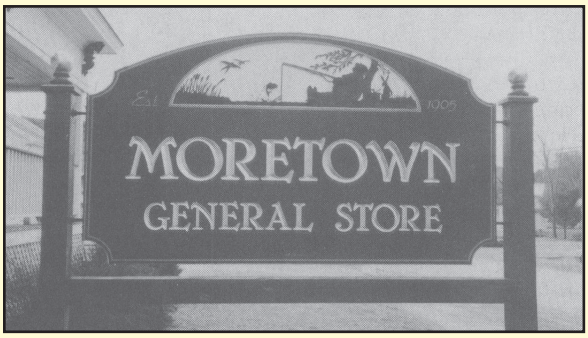

The narrator concluded Aaron's story: "When breakfast was ready, he was called up, but when they gave him a piece of bread only about half as large as his hand, and a small quantity of milk, he said the tears rolled clown his cheeks, and it was harder than all he had endured: but they told him that they must eat something for they did not know when they should get any more."

A BACKROAD DRIVE

In 1996 we can undertake a journey throughout the roads and byways of the Valley, from one end to the other, in a comfortable heated or air conditioned car depending on the weather, and all within a few pleasant hours. We can listen to world news on the radio or our favorite music on tapes or CDs, or travel only with our own quiet conversation, as we choose. Imagine the amazement of our forebears if they were to glimpse such unbelievable luxury!

START OF OUR JOURNEY: MORETOWN

We start this unique journey in the morning at the Moretown Store in the Village, with a fresh muffin and a cup of Green Mountain coffee, served with a pleasant welcome from Patty Moulton. We're prepared with the Vermont Road Atlas and Guide published by Northern Cartographic, which we check out between bites and sips. As local residents we're always sure to see someone we know sitting at a nearby table; if you're a visitor we'll give you a welcoming smile and friendly greeting.

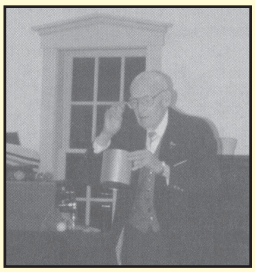

Having taken care of our hunger, and checked out film for our camera and gas for our car, we decided to walk around the Village and savor bits of history. You might want a photo of yourself walking around the town reading the local phone book!

Today the classic Town Hall built in 1835 remains a central location for parties, weddings, family reunions, as well as a variety of community activities ranging from African dance classes to weekly playgroups for young children and their parents. Evelyn Goss, who with her husband Ozzie cared for the Town Hall for over 20 years, has happy memories of the many events that took place here during this time. In particular she remembers a "gorgeous winter day in January 1973", when her daughter Patty was married. "We had the windows open it was so nice out. But that night it started to rain and the next day there were three inches of water on the floor. We spent all day mopping." She said that subsequently this flooding problem was corrected. Evelyn sums it all up: "we enjoyed it."

In 1985 a major event in Moretown took place, as townspeople worked together and refurbished the Town Hall for a celebration of its 150th anniversary. Photos captured the spirit and pride in the festivities: a parade, dance, historical events, Foolish Folks Fair and more. "The whole weekend was one grand blast," recalls Evelyn Goss.

In 1993 a large and energetic group of people from all parts of Moretown got together and met at the school to organize a two day Moretown Community Festival. One of the organizers, Diane Girard DiCarlo, said at the time, "The goal is to celebrate our neighborhoods." By all accounts it was a great success, as people admired the school, attended historical presentations, danced in the school gym, and enjoyed a free community dinner presented by the three churches in town. Renowned professional magician and retired engineer Andy Tweedie enthralled his audience with his last performance: he died three months later at the age or 85.

Fasten your seat belts and get ready for takeoff: prepare to measure the first leg of the trip, 4.9 miles. To ease into our backroads journey, we'll take you on a paved highway north on route lOOB, where the road follows the scenic twists and turns of the Mad River on our right. On a hot summer day the popular swimming hole at the Kenneth H. Ward Memorial Access is teeming with happy people cooling off. Pass the unmarked Moretown Hydro Dam, and at 4.9 miles, after crossing over the Mad River take a sharp right hairpin turn onto the Moretown Common Road. There is no road sign to give you a clue, but if suddenly you see the river on your left, you've missed the turn. Now you are on a dirt road, climbing steadily past pleasant countryside until the stunning view of the distant mountains opens up, Camel's Hump to the northwest, ski trails to the southwest.

The Wimble Farm on Moretown Common

Moretown Common is marked on the map, as you arrive at the four corners after about 3 miles. Early town meetings were held here on the Common when the center of population was in this area. In 1832 it was voted to move town meetings to the "Hollow" which is the present Moretown Village. As noted it was about this time that the town hall was built. Here at Moretown Common, the well preserved red school house is now a private home. One of the four remaining working farms in Moretown are in this area, the Howes farm on the left and the Wimble farm, with its charming belvedere, on the right as you continue straight at this junction. The map tells that this is the Common Road, but you'll notice a road sign that declares this as Wimble's Road. Proceed for about 2 miles to the Moretown Mountain Road. Turn right and go the short distance back to route 10013.

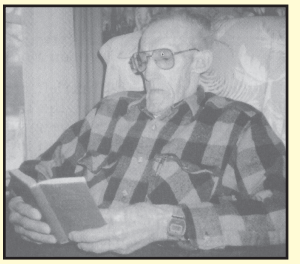

At the bottom of the hill turn left, noting the old Ward Lumber Co. mill across the road. Passing the Town Hall on the right and the Moretown Store on the left, you've now made a complete circle. A half mile through the village takes you to Austin Road, marked with a road sign: bear left onto the dirt road. The Mad River soon appears on the right, with an inviting stand of conifers nearby. Driving slowly, you can savor the views of fields, farms and distant mountains. After about a mile on Austin Road, you cross into Waitsfield, pass the Carpenter Farm, a working farm and country inn on the left, and go by Meadow Road and the Waitsfield Recreation Path a short distance away on the right. Continue straight, past the old brick farmhouse at the Neill farm on the left.

The charming Pine Brook covered bridge, built in 1870, welcomes you and poses modestly for a photo. (You're sure to take several photos before you reach this point.) Soon you are on paved road as you head up the North Road to Waitsfield Common. Here's a good place to park the car for a while and stretch your legs.

The Pine Brook Covered Bridge in Waitsfield built in 1870.

Herbert Spaulding lives alone in one of the two old houses facing the "triangle" that marks the Common today. This house, reputedly built in 1793, has been in his family well over one hundred years. In 1984, Mr. Spaulding retired to his family homestead after living in Connecticut for forty years. He remembers visiting his grandmother Etta Long when she lived in this house. His grandfather Moses Long died when Herbert was 18 months old. "We lived on a farm in Starksboro," he recalls. "It took an hour to drive there, then we had to be back for chores at night." This was before the McCullough Turnpike was built; they came through Huntington and Jonesville. "All dirt roads then," Mr. Spaulding continued. "In the spring of the year, you knew it. All mud holes, some you couldn't even get through."

As pleasant a country road walk as you'll find anywhere awaits you, if you'd like to walk the less than two mile loop, mostly on dirt road, that will bring you back to your parked car at the Common Cemetery. As you start off south down the Common Road, on your right is the flourishing von Trapp Greenhouses, where Tobi and Sally von Trapp and their family live and work. Across the road on your left is the classic brick farmhouse of the von Trapp family, where Erica and Werner, now retired, raised their five children. Martin and Kelly von Trapp and their family live here and work the farm. The original owner was Samuel Stow Savage, the subject of an oft-told tale. As the story goes, Samuel's daughter dreamed three times about a pot of buried gold, and her father dug for many days trying to find it. A stipulation that seemed to go along with these tales so popular with early inhabitants was the need for silence during critical moments. Well, as the tale proceeds, at the precise moment when Samuel's crowbar clinked unmistakably among the yellow coins, his son spoke -- and all the gold vanished.

As you descend and turn onto the Cross Road, you see the splendid sweep of view into the Valley and across to the mountains. Open fields allow this panorama to continue for about half of your walk on this road, before the woods become close on both sides. If you brought your binoculars and camera, you'll certainly capture something interesting - perhaps the color and splendor of fall, or dark coated deer in a sparse field on a January-thaw day. Turn right again onto Joslin Hill Road -you are on a hard surface road for the first time on the walk - and it's a short way back to the cemetery and your starting point.

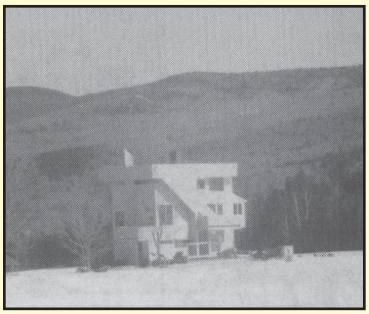

The von Trapp Farm originally owned by Samuel Stow Savage

Back in the car, start off south on the Common Road in a relatively straight though hilly line, enjoying classic old Vermont farms, a distant view to the right and a close view of the ridges to the left on this picturesque dirt road. After 2.7 miles you come to the junction of the Common Road and the paved East Warren Road. Along this stretch views continue; you pass Wadhams Stable and the Kristal Art Galleries and Sculpture Garden. A sign marks the right turn onto the Airport Road after 3.4 miles, but it's only .7 of a mile until a right bend in the road, quickly onto the dirt road that passes the renowned Sugarbush Soaring Center and Ole's Cross Country Skiing Center. The aptly named Dinersoar is also here. This next stretch of the road presents sweeping views of distant mountains - such as the south face of Camel's Hump - that appear and disappear. A wild turkey scuttles across the road just before the DeFreest Farm, momentarily interrupting the vision of the far ranging scenery. A winding descent of 2.9 miles ends back on Route 100 near the "erector set" bridge spanning the Mad River. A left turn and 1.8 miles brings you to the left fork in the road into Warren Village, well marked with a sign.

The "erector set" bridge over the Mad River

The Dinersoar at the Warren Airport

After parking the car, take a stroll along the short stretch of sidewalk through timeless Warren Village, where you're sure to add to your growing store of photos. Across the road are the gazebo housing the old school house, the white steepled church that sits on a rise of land by Flat Iron Road, and the municipal building, formerly the elementary school. The Warren Village Pottery across the street specializes in handcrafted functional pottery. Also in Warren Village, for shopping or browsing, are Bradley House Fine Crafts, Creators Shop, Roth Real Estate, Parade Gallery and Warren Antiques.

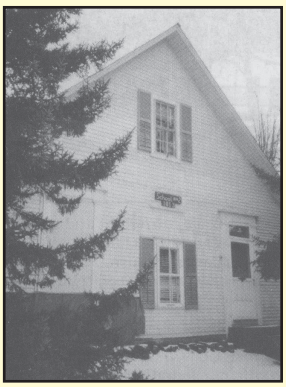

The Warren Store

Lunch at the Warren Store is always a treat, whether you are sitting on the deck overlooking Freeman's Brook or inside sharing a table with folks you know or just now met. Great sandwiches, put together with fresh ingredients and a good measure of imagination, owe their tempting breads to Tim Owings, owner of An Honest Loaf Bakery within the Warren Store. Tim also makes super premium cookies, not to be missed with a memorable lunch. For over twenty years this Village landmark has been under the ownership of Carol Lippencott. In earlier times, still remembered by some, it was owned by Roy Long. The Warren Store is also, widely known for its interesting line of general store provisions. The upstairs More Store features an eclectic array of clothing, jewelry, home decorations, toys and gifts, most of them from exotic places.

Continuing south in Warren Village, turn right and go through the 1879 covered bridge over the Mad River, climbing the .5 miles from the store to Route 100, and make a right tum. Proceed another half mile and turn left onto West Hill Road. A steady climb of a mile up West Hill Road brings you to the old Ernest Ralph sugar house at the corner of the Golf Course Road, where you turn right onto a dirt road. Emerging from a woodsy area, the road becomes hard surface as the famous 18-hole Sugarbush Golf Course, designed by Robert Trent Jones, comes into view. After lingering here for a while to drink in the scenery that "makes this course as pleasing to the eye as it is challenging to play," continue on the winding, hilly road that leads to the Sugarbush Access Road, a distance of 1.6 miles.

Turn right onto Sugarbush Road for a mere .3 mile, then left onto German Flats Road. Proceed for 3.9 miles, past the entrance to Mt. Ellen, the Fayston Elementary School and various interesting places for visitors to stay or dine. After turning right and going .8 of a mile on Rt. 17, watch for the old refurbished schoolhouse on the right and a sharp U-turn to the left. Go up the steep incline of Number Nine Hill. Here are some of the most spectacular views of the Valley, where it is easy to stop and pose for photos with a post-card background. After 1.8 miles bear right - the other way becomes a dead end - and you'll see the Bragg Farm on the right and then Vasseur Farm on the left. Continue 1 mile to Kew Vasseur Road and turn left. One and a half miles through a wooded and sparsely settled area allow glimpses of nearby mountains.

The old North Fayston School #2, built in 1813

When you come to the Center Fayston Road, turn left and again enjoy a sense of real backroad touring. After 3.6 miles you'll come to North Fayston, and the road by that name. Here is the renovated farm house owned for many years by the Boyce family: many Boyce descendants live and work in the Valley or nearby towns. Here, too, is the old School #2 built in 1813. Big Basin and Sharpshooters Roads begin at this junction. Turn right to begin the 4.1 mile descent to Rt. 100, past more houses than you've seen in the last few miles, the Fayston town garage and Municipal Building

And here ends our guided tour. Many more miles of beckoning back roads in our Valley are yours to explore. Perhaps you can mix and match parts of our suggested itinerary to design your own journey. Whatever the season - tranquil green summer, clear blue sky autumn, white-clad winter, or soft beige leafless spring, you're bound to discover your own singular joys and pleasant memories.

THANKS

Many people contributed in many ways to this compilation, and I am grateful to all of them for their support and encouragement. I thoroughly enjoyed my personal journey back in time as I reconnected with people I hadn't seen in many years. Suzy Thompson, for example, reminded me that I was her Girl Scout leader: we didn't count back how many years that was.

Mary Moriarty was most gracious about welcoming me into her home and allowing me to tape-record our conversation about her father Walter Moriarty and the original establishment of the fire tower. I also captured some oral history in a taped interview with Herbert Spaulding, who lives in one of Waitsfield's oldest existing houses.

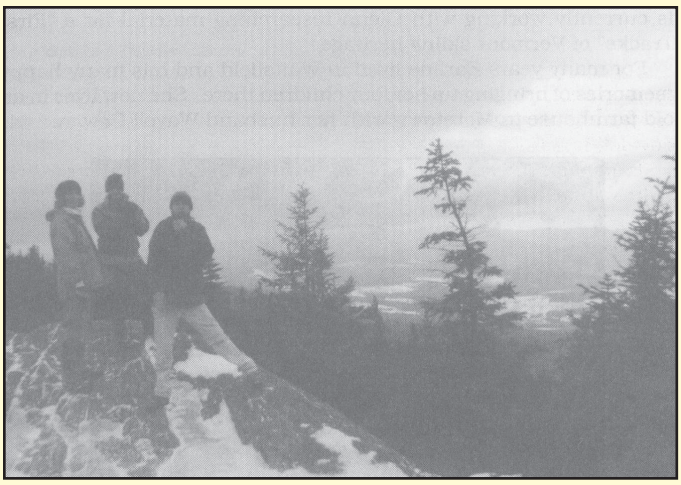

Special thanks go to Rick Thompson who wrote the descriptive piece about the hike to the old fire tower, evoking fond memories for many of us. His mother Peggy was very interested in this project and provided helpful suggestions.

Trudy Folsom's story about how Burnt Rock Mountain probably got its name is a gem. People at both the Vermont Historical Society and the Green Mountain Club found it delightful, in my condensed, verbal version. Trudy also provided old photos, as well as coffee and homemade muffins as she, Ike and I chatted amiably about families and times past.

The backroads drive owes some of its scenic interest to Gerry Gallagher and her sense of adventure. "Of course you go up Number Nine Hill," she assured me. She also kept me off dead-end roads, and she did a great job of writing on a yellow pad balanced on her knee while bouncing along on dirt roads.

When Gerry Cota look me down the snow-covered path to photograph the Natural Bridge, she did not know what a feat of unaccustomed bravery this was on my part. Her gracious sharing of this natural phenomenon is most impressive.

Lauren and John Gallagher were indispensable: they provided research, photography, editing and proofreading, as well as talking with many of the people with whom we established contacts. They also brought a valuable focus when I tended to get off track. I am deeply grateful to both of them.

A CONTINUING HISTORY PROJECT

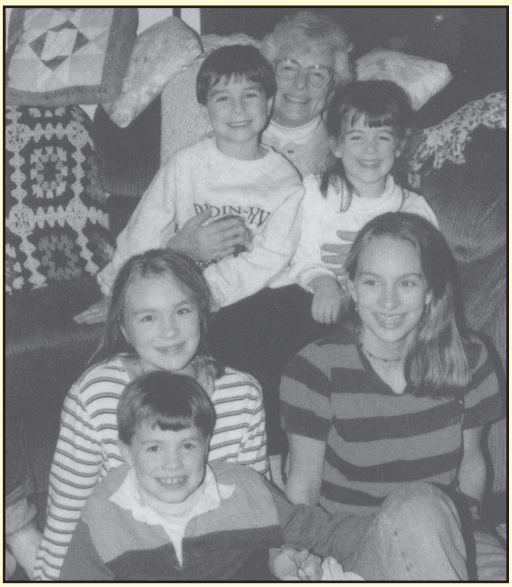

Compiling a history of the old fire tower in Waitsfield was a challenging as well as satisfying undertaking. And undoubtedly it's not yet completed. As additional memories and photographs come to light, they can be added to a looseleaf notebook on the history of the fire tower. Betty Howlett, librarian at the Joslin Memorial Library in Waitsfield, has graciously agreed to keep this notebook and add to it as material is given to her. Please feel free to phone me at my home, 223-6777, with any comments or questions.

COMMODORES INN

Sitting at the southern gateway to Stowe Village, our lakeside Vermont hotel is conveniently located for all area adventures.

We provide resort amenities at a comfortable price, because we believe that traveling should be stress-free fun. We're family owned and operated, which means we genuinely care what you think about us. And, we treat our guests like friends - right down to serving fresh cookies and keeping the fireplace stoked. The truth is, we are lucky to live here and we love sharing our place with others.

If you're looking for a clean, cozy, charming place to stay in Stowe VT, you found it here. The Commodores Inn is your home away from home. Warm and welcoming; like a beacon in the distance, we're here for you. Land ho!

Why stay at the Commodores Inn?

- Location, location, location - we're close to everything!
- Comfortable rooms - recently refurbished!
- Resort amenities - indoor and outdoor pools, game room and more!
- On-site dining - lakeside restaurant and bar!
- Kids love it here - lots of room to run around!
- Affordable rates - with specials and packages!
- Friendly faces - helpful staff and 24-hour front desk assistance!

Activities for Everyone, In Every Season

The Commodores Inn and Stowe offer a wide array of year-round activities for every type of enthusiast. There are outdoor activities for the sporting enthusiast, music, art and theater for the cultural buff, and an abundance of shops, restaurants and sight seeing opportunities for all ages, budgets and appetites. Our experienced staff is more than willing to assist you with your daily plans.

In warmer weather, enjoy canoeing kayaking, paddle boating and fishing the well-stocked waters of our beautiful 3-1/2 acre lake. On Monday and Wednesday evenings from April to November, the skippers from the Stowe Yacht Club race their remote-controlled model yachts on our lake. If you would like to give this exciting sport a try, we do have an extra boat or you can just relax on our deck and watch with your favorite beverage and snack.

On cooler evenings relax, read or play games in our fireside living room. Bask in the tropical warmth of our indoor pool, Jacuzzis and saunas. We also have a game room where you can play ping pong, pool and lots of other games. After a long day out in the cold it is nice to be able to unwind in our sports lounge before having a delicious dinner, either in our lounge or dining room.

Sitting at the southern gateway to Stowe Village, our lakeside Vermont hotel is conveniently located for all area adventures.

We provide resort amenities at a comfortable price, because we believe that traveling should be stress-free fun. We're family owned and operated, which means we genuinely care what you think about us. And, we treat our guests like friends - right down to serving fresh cookies and keeping the fireplace stoked. The truth is, we are lucky to live here and we love sharing our place with others.

If you're looking for a clean, cozy, charming place to stay in Stowe VT, you found it here. The Commodores Inn is your home away from home. Warm and welcoming; like a beacon in the distance, we're here for you. Land ho!

Why stay at the Commodores Inn?

- Location, location, location - we're close to everything!
- Comfortable rooms - recently refurbished!
- Resort amenities - indoor and outdoor pools, game room and more!
- On-site dining - lakeside restaurant and bar!
- Kids love it here - lots of room to run around!
- Affordable rates - with specials and packages!
- Friendly faces - helpful staff and 24-hour front desk assistance!

Activities for Everyone, In Every Season

The Commodores Inn and Stowe offer a wide array of year-round activities for every type of enthusiast. There are outdoor activities for the sporting enthusiast, music, art and theater for the cultural buff, and an abundance of shops, restaurants and sight seeing opportunities for all ages, budgets and appetites. Our experienced staff is more than willing to assist you with your daily plans.

In warmer weather, enjoy canoeing kayaking, paddle boating and fishing the well-stocked waters of our beautiful 3-1/2 acre lake. On Monday and Wednesday evenings from April to November, the skippers from the Stowe Yacht Club race their remote-controlled model yachts on our lake. If you would like to give this exciting sport a try, we do have an extra boat or you can just relax on our deck and watch with your favorite beverage and snack.

On cooler evenings relax, read or play games in our fireside living room. Bask in the tropical warmth of our indoor pool, Jacuzzis and saunas. We also have a game room where you can play ping pong, pool and lots of other games. After a long day out in the cold it is nice to be able to unwind in our sports lounge before having a delicious dinner, either in our lounge or dining room.
